HOUSE SAVES
HOOVER'S FARM
BILL, 250 TO 113Kills Debentures;
Senate to Yield.BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD,
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., June 13.—(Special)—Enactment of the Hoover farm relief program into law was virtually assured today when the house, by the decisive vote of 250 to 113, declared itself against the export debenture scheme.

The action came on a motion by Representative John Q. Tilson (Rep., Conn.), majority leader, to instruct the house conferees on the farm bill to eliminate the debenture provision of the senate bill. Only 13 Republicans voted against the motion, joining forces with 100 Democrats. Thirty-nine Democrats and 217 Republicans were recorded in the affirmative.

Senate and house conferees will meet tomorrow morning to go through the formality of again agreeing to the original conference report, which was rejected by the senate Tuesday, 45 to 46, because of the failure to include the debenture provision.

Senate Acceptance Assured.

This time there seems no question but that the senate will accept the conference report, as the desire of the debenture advocates to have it in the bill has not been gratified.

The house, as well as the senate, will approve the conference report in both houses is expected yesterday. The house will be able to act tomorrow only in case unanimous consent is given to waive the rules, which require the printing of conference report in advance of consideration.

The likelihood is that there may be considerable debate in the senate, after which the conference report will be approved by an overwhelming vote. Leaders of both the Democratic and radical opposition groups have expressed their willingness to support the bill without the debenture provision on condition that the house re-adopt the debenture in a direct vote.

Start Relief Next Week.

Before congressional recesses, which is expected by next Tuesday, the president will forward a budget recommendation for the immediate appropriation of part of the authorized $50 million dollar farm loan fund. It is thought likely that 150 or 200 million dollars will be asked.

The house action was taken without any debate. Representative G. N. Haugen (Rep., Ia.), chairman of the committee on agriculture, first moved that the request of the senate for an other conference be acceded to and that conference be appointed. This was approved without a roll call. Representative Tilson then presented his motion to instruct the conferees.

The only Republicans from the central states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan and Indiana who voted against the Tilson motion were Representatives E. B. Brown, Merlin Hull, Frank Lampert, John M. Nelson, and George J. Schneide (Wis.), E. H. Campbell (Ia.) and W. F. James (Mich.). The only Democrat from one of these five states voting in favor of the motion was Representative Louis Lanza (Ind.). The 32 Democrats who supported the Tilson motion included 14 from New York.

Bonds Starts Tariff Fight.

A lively debate in the senate over whether the tariff revision should be limited to agricultural products is assured tomorrow on a resolution introduced today by Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Idaho).

The Borah resolution declares it to be the sense of the senate "that any amendments to the existing tariff law should be confined to agriculture and directly related products." It directs the finance committee to limit its activities to such schedules. Most of the Democrats, as well as some Republicans from agricultural states, are pledged to support the resolution, and the vote may be taken on the floor of the house tomorrow.

The finance committee concluded its meetings on valuation provisions of the tariff bill. Among witnesses was Carl A. Bauer, representing Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, who opposed any change in valuation from the present law.

A subcommittee headed by Senator Charles S. Deneen (Rep., Ill.), commenced hearings on the paper schedule. Various paper manufacturers appeared asking minor changes in the house bill.

Dynamite Blast in Bakery Oven Damages Building

An explosion of dynamite in the oven of a bakery at 1015 North Rockwell street, which partly wrecked the building, was being investigated by West North avenue police last night. The family of Israel Forman, owner of the bakery, who was sleeping in a flat on the second floor, was aroused by the blast. Police are searching for the man who rented the store from Forman and for the man who subleased it, to question them. The damage was estimated at $500.

Openings Up New Route.

The course of flight follows the great circle route. It will mean the opening up of some 700 miles of scheduled daily flying of passengers. Universal has been flying passengers between Chicago and Cleveland. The new section lies between here and Garden City, Kas., over a government air lane. A new airport has been built at Garden City for the western terminal.

While the line cuts directly across the country, it will serve passengers arriving in Chicago from the north by morning train. The plane service will place Chicago four hours from Kansas City.

City to Close
$1,500,000
Garbage Plant

BULLETIN.

Before adjourning early this morning the city council finance committee approved an appropriation of $100,000 for Corporation Counsel Etelson to be used in public utility litigation. The proposal was bitterly opposed, finally carrying, 8 to 4. Ald. Guernsey (8th), Govier (9th), Maypyle (28th), and Frankhauser (49th) voted no.

The aldermen also approved an appropriation of $153,000 for Police Commissioner Russell to construct a radio broadcast station to take over the police work of W.G.N. The TRIBUNE station, Seven Hills new squad cars were also authorized.

Minneapolis ownership in Chicago received another shock last night when the city council finance committee voted to abandon the municipal reduction plant at Pershing road and Iron street, which has been disposing of the city's garbage since 1908. High cost of operation was given as the cause. The plant represents an investment of more than $1,500,000 in land, buildings, and machinery.

Competition with the city's Goose Island incinerator was the major factor in the mounting costs at the plant, according to information furnished to the aldermen. Constructed to dispose of 500 tons of garbage a day, the plant took all of the city's garbage until July of last year, but its receipts cut down to an average of 64 tons a day for the first three months of this year. The cost of disposal increased as the tonnage was cut down in favor of the incinerator.

REPORT RUSSIAN ADVANCE TROOPS INVADE MONGOLIA

Fear Soviet Plan to Seize Part of China.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service] PEKING, June 13.—Advance guards of Russian troops have invaded Mongolia, Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, dictator of Manchuria, has telegraphed the Nationalist government at Nanking. Gen. Chang reports the appearance of Soviet patrols, armed and uniformed, at Hulun Buir, Manchuria. Large forces of Russians are said to be gathering on the Siberian frontier. Armed forces have surrounded all Chinese consulates in Russia, the report added. The cabinet at Nanking is considering immediate action.

Gen. Chang asserts that he is able to guard Manchuria against invasion. His three main armies are reputed to number more than 200,000.

China is Magnolia.

It is considered that Russia intends to establish a protectorate over Outer Mongolia, besides occupying a part of Inner Mongolia. It is not believed that Japan will intervene if Manchuria is not touched.

The alleged Russian invasion is interpreted to be the Soviet answer to the recent Chinese raids on the Soviet consululates at Harbin, Manchuria, and other cities, with the arrest and trial of thirty-nine communists. Diplomatic relations between the two countries have been near the breaking point for several weeks.

British May Return Port.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service) SHANGHAI, June 13.—Sir Miles Lampson, British ambassador to China, has notified the Nationalist government of Great Britain's desire to open negotiations for the retrocession of the British naval port of Weihaiwei to China, in control, according to a report from Nanking.

Weihaiwei is located on the northern coast of Shantung peninsula, and was acquired by Great Britain for a naval base in 1898, about the time Russia seized Port Arthur and Germany seized Kiaochow bay. A split-up of China among European nations seemed imminent at that time, but the process was blocked by America's assumption of the open door policy in 1922.

Lord Balfour, head of the British delegation to the Washington conference, promised to restore Weihaiwei to China when Japan agreed to evacuate Shantung, but the British promise was never carried out. The British insisted China's national politics prevented negotiations.

Includes Strip of Land.
Weihaiwei included the bay and a strip of land ten miles wide along the whole coast line of the peninsula, comprising about 300 square miles. The bay, which is sheltered by the island, is six miles wide and three miles deep and constitutes one of the best harbors on the coast of China. Great Britain has never developed fortifications there, the port being used chiefly as a hospital station for the British fleet.

The French also promised at the Washington conference to restore Kwangtung, south of Hongkong, but no action has since been taken to carry out this promise.

Dislikes Jail Food; Tries
3 Times to Hang Himself

Because he could not adjust his appetite to jail fare, Mike Mallo, 17 years old, 918 Marion avenue, tried to commit suicide by hanging himself three times within a half hour at the Chicago avenue station last night. Then two other prisoners were placed in the cell to watch him.

FLYERS SIGHTED NEAR "CORNER" WHERE POSSIBLE COURSES TO PARIS PART

The French plane Yellow Bird was seen before darkness fell over the Atlantic at a point near the "corner," where Atlantic steamship lines part. The flyers planned to take the northern route from the "corner" unless unfavorable conditions were encountered, in which case they expected to follow the southern route to Paris. The corner is 1,050 miles east and a little south of the takeoff point, Old Orchard, Me. The flyers were seen 450 miles from their starting place.

SOLDIERING DAYS OVER, HERO OF '98 HANGS HIMSELF

Leaves Estate to His Disabled Comrades.

Leaving a note in which he bequeathed all his possessions who did not pay the entire tax on March 15 is due tomorrow at the office of Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, collector of internal revenue for the first district of Illinois.

The total tax collections are expected to approximate $9,000,000 and will be considerably higher than the second instalment of last year, Mrs. Blackidge said. The figure is about one-fourth of the total collections for the district in March, when more than $30,000,000 in income tax was paid.

After living half a century of active adventure, Friesel for the first time found himself in ill health three months ago and unable to look forward to a period of more excitement. It was the resulting discouragement which led him to take his life in March, Mrs. Blackidge explained.

Five Bravery Medals Found.

Friesel possessed a bank account credited with deposits of $1,200 and papers showing ownership of the ranch at Rosebud, Wyo. The police also found in his effects five medals awarded him for bravery in the Spanish war and in the Santo Domingo and Philippine insurrections.

He left the belongings to earthly possessions to the disabled veterans of the Spanish-American war who are members of the McKinley post," Friesel's note read. "It gave no reason for his friends to believe.

Friend Tell of Illness.

Other tenants in the rooming house in which Friesel lived said they thought he had been despondent over the ill health which first visited him three months ago. The police were told that Friesel took delight in telling of his experiences and had displayed his medals to acquaintances. One man found in his trunk revealed that he was a charter member of the Manila municipal police.

As a result of his story the police broadcast a request for the arrest of Frank R. Adams, president of the Electrolyzers' union. Jung said that Adams had visited the plant several times and met with the refusal of the plant's employees to join the union. He told the police that several of his employees had been slugged.

Dr. Thores said Rojas and his wife had been on the staff of the hospital a year ago, but were discharged by him.

FAWNY! LONDON GENTLEMEN MAY ABANDON PANTS

[Copyright: 1929 by the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 13.—With parliamentary dignitaries and staid business men going about in running trunks and open shirts, London may soon look like an ancient Roman city, with toga and sandal as dress de rigueur. If the Men's Dress Reform party, a London organization launched today, gains ground.

A program of activities to "all interests in more healthful and better clothes for men to join the party and discuss how men may reform their clothing with its much profit to their health and appearance as women recently have achieved. Despite widespread and general ridicule the fact that Degen Ings and his colleagues of the independent professors and physicians endorse the idea is bringing the public to serious consideration of it. Changes recommended are the abandonment of trousers, collars, waistcoats, unnecessary buttons, and ridiculous pockets.

Gordon Selfridge, American millionaire proprietor of a London department store, said:

"I'd support any movement for improvement in men's dress if it increased comfort and efficiency and wasn't freakish. I shouldn't like my head buyer to report to me in Boy Scout shorts, but he's never likely to."

Fight to Save Life of Man Shot by Dry Agent

Silver City, N. M., June 12.—(AP)—

Surgeons today continued their battle to save the life of J. T. Thompson of Hanover, alleged bootlegger, who was shot by Prohibition Agent W. L. Hill and Deputy Sheriff Tom McSherry Tuesday morning. Hill reported to Charles Sterns, prohibition administrator for New Mexico, that Thompson fired upon the officers when they attempted to arrest him while he was unloading 200 gallons of whisky.

Hill said he had supplied Simon Ortega money with which to buy the liquor and that the officers surprised Thompson when he brought the whisky to a place designated by Ortega.

HEAD OF PLANT SHOT; BLAMES LABOR TROUBLE

Labor trouble was held responsible by the police last night for the shooting of James C. Thompson, president of the Illinois Central. Ad. Plate company, by two men near his home at 3149 North Springfield avenue. At the Belmont hospital Jung explained to the police that he had trouble recently with labor organizers who wished to enlist the sixty employees of his company in their ranks.

As a result of his story the police broadcast a request for the arrest of Frank R. Adams, president of the Electrolyzers' union. Jung said that Adams had visited the plant several times and met with the refusal of the plant's employees to join the union. He told the police that several of his employees had been slugged.

EXPERT STARTS RIGID SURVEY OF POLICE NEEDS

Bruce Smith Seeks to Improve Service.

Starting today, Chicago's police department is in for a year of inspection, review, and study. Bruce Smith of the National Institute of Public Administration, arrived yesterday to undertake the job and one of his first statements was that the personnel of the department is not to be investigated but that its systems and methods will be. There is to be no Piping, but rather an effort to make life and property safer, he explained.

Mr. Smith has been traveling, always, in five cities and he comes to Chicago after a year spent with the committee on uniform criminal records of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He was selected by the citizens' advisory committee appointed by Police Commissioner Russell. This group has raised $50,000 for the survey.

It was made plain that he was not called here with the intention of being shown more drastic methods of enforcing prohibition. What is wanted, Mr. Smith explained, is to get the best possible results out of the department and to establish a system of records in cooperation with cities of the entire country, and to adopt scientific methods of crime detection and crime fighting as are already accepted in other cities.

Among his first statements were that "I am not here to referee any beer war," and "I am not one of those who believes the crook is entitled to the first shot at a policeman."

Among the subjects he said will receive special attention are these: distribution of manpower, special pu-

COMPLETE JURY TO TRY ARTHUR QUINN FOR ELECTION FRAUDS

The jury to try "Prince" Arthur Quinn, 428 ward Democratic boss, and four co-defendants, was completed yesterday at the Criminal Court of Justice, Judge Frank B. Miller's Criminal court. Four days were used to select the jury, which is to determine whether Quinn and the other defendants are guilty of crimes committed on election day in April, 1927, during the mayoralty fight.

Special Assistant State's Attorney C. E. Lounsbury said that he would prove to the jury that Quinn and the others stuffed the ballot boxes in the 428th ward. He will also prove, he said, that they altered ballots as well as voted boasters.

The other defendants are Ernest Mueller, Harold Wahl, Martin Nelson, and Edward Heller.

Seven hundred members of the architectural iron workers' union, on strike since June 1, last night ratified a wage agreement negotiated by representatives of the building trades council and the Building Construction Employers' association. The men will go back to work today. They walked out in sympathy with the structural iron workers, whose strike was settled several days ago.

Under the new agreement the architectural iron workers will be paid at the rate of $1.60 an hour instead of $1.50 they previously received. The $1.60 scale will continue in effect until Oct. 1, when it will be increased to $1.62 1/2.

Another worker-employer dispute was settled last night when the carpenter's contract council signed a two year agreement with thirty millwork plants providing for the reemployment of 700 carpenters at the old scale of $1.50.

The other defendants are Ernest Mueller, Harold Wahl, Martin Nelson, and Edward Heller.

WHARTON LEAVES TO SERVE 2 YEAR PRISON SENTENCE

Insists He's Innocent of Mail Robbery Plot.

Charles S. Wharton, former congressman and former assistant state's attorney, was taken to Leavenworth penitentiary last night by deputy United States marshals to begin serving a two year sentence for conspiracy in connection with the Evergreen Park mail robbery of February, 1928. His conviction of aiding Charles "Limpy" Cleaver's gang in the $125,000 robbery was upheld by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals two weeks ago.

Wharton surrendered to Marshal H. C. W. Laubenthal shortly after 4 p.m. and sat in the back room of the marshal's office for two hours, talking in a philosophical vein.

Insists He Is Innocent.
"I've had almost every other experience in life, why not this?" he said in referring to his coming prison term. "I'm not guilty of making my home a hideout for the Cleaver mob and neither did I receive $4,000 for the loot, as my indictment claimed. That's my story first, last and always."

The former congressman had six other prison-companions with him on the trip, the drug addicts, two prostitutes, two law violators, and a postal law violator. All were under the surveillance of Deputy Marshal Joseph Spangler. The seven, with guards, left Leavenworth at 7 p.m. in a special prisoners' car over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad from the Union station. The car will be shuttled into the prison yard at 10 a.m. today.

Hopes to Return Soon.

Wharton was spared the ignominy of "bull pen" experience when he surrendered. Chief Deputy Marshal Edward King allowed him to sit in a room adjoining the lockup, until the large van came to take him to the station. Wharton sat and chatted with reporters with seeming calm.

"I'll be a good prisoner and I hope I can get back to my law practice here in the same time, say ten months," he said. "I will be eligible for parole after serving one-third, or eight months, of his sentence."

In entering Leavenworth, Wharton automatically loses his citizenship and it cannot be restored except by order of the President of the United States. The last two of the eight members of the Cleaver gang to be brought up for the Evergreen Park robbery will go on trial next Monday before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. They have been given prison sentences of 15 years. Another member of the gang, who was found murdered, and a companion, was killed in a holdup. John [Red] Flannery and Virgil Littauer will be tried Monday.

RICH CHICAGOAN GETS 18 MONTHS ON DRY CHARGE

John P. Brady, wealthy Chicago and Keweenaw real estate operator and a race horse owner, was sentenced yesterday to eighteen months in Leavenworth penitentiary for violating the national prohibition law in federal court at Keweenaw. He was also given a $5,000 fine.

Brady, the government claimed, was the owner of a building in Keweenaw from which liquor was alleged to have been sold. Two others were convicted with him. They are Alonzo Denneyer, who was given the same sentence and fine, and Peter Vanbeck, who must serve one year and pay a $1,000 fine. In closing argument the court refused a plea for probation for Brady and said that it was imperative that a man of his wealth should be punished for violating the law.

BOY, BELIEVED DROWNED, SEEN LOOTING PANTRY

Herbert Greflick, 15 years old, missing boy believed to have been drowned in the Des Plaines river near the Schiller Park forest preserve, was seen looting the pantry of his home at 4455 North Mansfield avenue yesterday. His mother, Mrs. Frank Greflick, and a told Chief of the Des Plaines forest preserve police, who has been making a search, that Herbert has been playing hockey.

The investigation began Monday when a note was found in an abandoned tent which read, "If you are still alive let us know." Chief Louie acted on the theory that the companions of the boy, who had been following the crowd in flight, fearing that he had been drowned. The search was dropped when Mrs. Greflick reported that neighbor had seen her son enter the home in her absence.

KILLS EFFORT TO DEFER NATIONAL ORIGINS QUOTA

Move Beaten in Senate, 37 to 43.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.
Washington, D. C., June 12.—(Special.)—Efforts to prevent the so-called national origins immigration quota system from becoming effective by presidential proclamation on July 1 met final defeat in the Senate today when a resolution which would have brought it off the floor was defeated by a roll call vote of 37 to 43.

Under the provision, bitterly fought by racial groups all over the country and twice postponed since its inclusion in the 1924 immigration law, the total annual immigration to the United States will be reduced after July 1 from 1,540,000 to 1,357,000.

Instead of being fixed at 2 per cent of their national origin, resident in the United States in 1920, quotas will be apportioned to the various nations in proportion to the national origins of the whole population in 1920.

Favored Walsh Measure.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator George P. Nye (Rep., N. D.), and defeated today, would have discharged the Senate immigration committee, which early in the session recommended a bill to the Senate to further consider the subject and would have brought the repeal measure introduced by Senator David I. Walsh (Dem., Mass.) to the floor.

Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), author of the new quota system, led the fight in its defense, and was present, if defeated in today's roll call,

NO FARM DEPRESSION, CHICAGO MAN ASSERTS AT I. C. C. HEARING

Washington, D. C., June 12.—(Special.)—A denial that American farmers are suffering from agricultural depression was made today by A. B. Enoch of Chicago, representing western railroads before the Interstate Commerce Commission in its investigation on freight rates and the farm price question.

The commission is under congressional mandate to put into effect the lowest lawful rate consistent with service, as a farm relief measure.

When Enoch made his statement, Commissioner Eastman inquired:

"Do you think we can accept that statement, when Congress is in special session at the present moment at the call of President Hoover to enact farm relief legislation?"

"You can," Enoch replied. "I think the record in this case shows there was complete recovery in 1925."

He filibustered against the Walsh bill until after July 1 if the congress had not recessed before.

The Pennsylvania senator permitted the Nye resolution to come to a vote only after a careful poll of the Senate beforehand indicated a majority against it.

Say Enoch Favored.

Opposition to the national origins provision has been based principally on the contention that the quota determined by the cabinet commission, of which President Hoover, then secretary of commerce, was a member, discriminates in favor of English, northern Irish and southern European immigration at the expense of German, Scandinavian and northern European countries.

President Hoover, during his campaign, had called for a more accurate determination of the plan pending further studies to determine more accurate quotas and postponing operation of the system.

The changes to be made in quota:

Thirty seven countries, including 13 British members, are included in the quota and the following: Afghanistan, Andorra, French Comoros, Egypt, Ireland, Jordan, Luxembourg, Malta, Morocco, Puerto Rico, Martinique, French Guiana, Monaco, Bulgaria, China, Ethiopia, India, Philippines, Spain, Liberia, Lesotho, Malaya, New Zealand, Rhodesia, Spain, Yugoslavia, Turkey, are entitled to a quota of 100 immigrants each under both the 1920 and national origins basis of immigration.

27 countries of 500 immigrants each: Total 104,000 120,711 after July 1 are entitled in the following table showing immigration quotas under the 1929 basis now operating and the national origins basis which will become operative unless repealed:

Red Tape

BY JOHN
Chicago Tribune
LONDON, June 14.—(Special.)—Dawes, American Court of St. James, England, tomorrow morning, will be the first to land at London.

He is due at 8:30 a. m. before 6:30 a. m. morning he goes to his residence to the night train to where he will meet Ramsey MacDonnell, hours of lunch and return to London.

No such energy ever has been shown. Officials do not know what must be said that comes it and is done. Dawes will cut the unnecessary down to the driving up Anglo-American standings.

The meeting of Mr. Dawes and Mr. Dawes will be on the radio on Mr. MacDonnell's arrival. It is perhaps a little Scottish to the historic meet the scene of a famous scene. It was the age, that a man between Scotland and Sweden, king of a royal hunting party of the hills of Moray, Shakespeare's "Henry VIII" arrives there at noon, lunches with a private house of town and catches up with London.

LONDON GASPS AT DAWES' DYNAMIC DISPLAY OF SPEED

New Envoy Slashes British Red Tape Traditions.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, June 13.—Charles Gates Dawes, American ambassador to the Court of St. James', who arrives in England tomorrow, is setting an example of Yankee brawn which is causing old fashioned Britons to gasp.

He is due at Southampton on Friday at 3 p. m. and will not get to London before 8 p. m. On Saturday morning he goes to Windsor to present his credentials to King George and then, a full fledge ambassador, takes the night train for Forres, Scotland, where he will meet Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald for a couple of hours of lunch and conversation and return to London the same night.

Will Meet at Historic Spot.

No such energy in an ambassador ever has been known here, and officials do not know what to make of it. In justice to the new government it must be said that Mr. MacDonald comes it and is disposed to meet Americans half way in getting rid of the unnecessary red tape and getting down to the essential business of clearing up Anglo-American misunderstandings.

The meeting of the prime minister and Mr. Dawes had been arranged by radio on Mr. MacDonald's initiative. It is perhaps a good omen that the little Scottish town of Forres, where the historic meeting takes place, was the scene of a former peace conference. It was there, nearly 1,000 years ago, that King Edgar signed the treaty with Malcolm II, King of Scotland, and Swin, King of the Norsemen. It is a "royal burgh" nestling at the foot of the hills on the shores of the Firth of Moray and is mentioned in Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Mr. Dawes arrives there at 1:17 on Monday afternoon, lunches with Mr. MacDonald at a private house on the outskirts of the town and catches a train at 4:57 p. m. for London.

Will Discuss Disarmament.

In an interview today Mr. MacDonald said: "In this short space of time three or four great questions on Anglo-American cooperation in the cause of disarmament and permanent peace will be opened. I hope nothing will stand in the way of this attainment. At this lunch, which will be one of the most informal lunches ever held in politics, Gen. Dawes and I shall discuss the great question of Anglo-American cooperation in the cause of disarmament and permanent peace.

LLOYD GEORGE CLAIMS TO BE KEY PIN OF LABORITES

Says Liberals Control the Government.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, June 13.—Watchful co-operation with the government along certain lines and certain hostility along others, is the policy of the Liberal party in the new parliament, according to David Lloyd George, who today was reelected president and chairman of the party at a meeting held today at National Liberal headquarters.

At a luncheon afterwards he outlined the Liberal policy, after saying that he was not downhearted but really encouraged at the wonderful government in recognition of success the party has won. "The elections elevated our party to a position of responsibility in national affairs second only to that of the government. During the parliament the final vote on all controversial issues between the other two parties rests with us. We must not use the power given us by the electors in a paltry, fractious or perfidy spirit.

Ask for Soviet Recognition.

"We shall await with interest the forthcoming declaration of the ministerial policy, but we must declare that so far as it lies in our power the mandate of the government ends when it fails to pursue the Liberal policy. At the very hour the ministry decides to become a socialist administration its life ends, for it has no authority from the nation to embark on socialist experiments."

"I assume the government will immediately repair the stupid blunder of the Arcoia raid [a raid which took place on May 12, 1927, when hundreds of police made a sensational descent on the headquarters of Arcoia Ltd., the official soviet trade delegation and corporation, and a semi-diplomatic organization, when many documents were seized] and resume diplomatic relations with Russia."

Bars Soviet Loan.

It is learned that Mr. Lloyd George has already sent a message to Mr. MacDonald saying that he will support

U. S. COURT GETS POSSESSION OF WHOOPEE BOOKS

The much possessed "whoopee" records of the Central Auto Service, 1452 North Clark street, involved in the sanitary district investigation, changed hands again yesterday, this time passing into federal control.

They were formally turned over to Charles M. Bates, clerk of the United States District court, following an order issued by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter several months ago.

The next move will probably be a hearing on the motion of Attorney Michael Ahern, counsel for the auto company, to vacate the Carpenter order and return the documents to their owners. This will be opposed by Assistant State Attorney David Stinson, on whose motion the records were impounded with the District court clerk when the senate investigation committee had finished with them.

SENATE SENDS APPORTIONMENT BILL TO HOOVER

Census Measure Report

Adopted, 48 to 37.

[Chicago Tribune Free Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—One of the four emergency measures recommended by President Hoover in his message to the special session, the census reapportionment bill, took its last hurdle today. The Senate, by a vote of 48 to 37, adopted a committee report supporting the bill, and it now goes to the White House for presidential approval.

The bill not only authorizes an appropriation of approximately $40,000,000 for the 1930 census, but also provides for the first reapportionment of house membership since 1911, and creates permanent machinery for automatic redistribution of house seats after each future decennial census.

President Given Power.

Under the terms of the measure, if Congress itself fails to act promptly after the 1930 and succeeding population counts, the President will be empowered to proclaim a reapportionment of representation among the states based on the so-called "major fraction" system, the method used in 1911 and on which present house membership is determined.

Progress of the bill, sponsored by Senator A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], down to the adoption of the conference report today, was marked by some of the hottest skirmishes of the session. Especially hard fights were won over the Wagner amendment, which would have required the selection of the more than 100,000 census enumerators from civil service lists of eligible persons, and the Anti-Saloon league-Klan endorsed proposal to exclude aliens from any population canvass intended as the basis for congressional reapportionment.

Southerners Change Minds.

Southern dry Democrats, hoping by the latter amendment to reduce the representation of populous, "wet" communities, dropped the scheme like a hot cake when the house not only adopted it but at the same time adopted a retaliatory amendment, proposed by Representative G. H. Tinkham [Rep., Mass.], which would have reduced southern states' representation in Congress in proportion to the extent to which those states disfranchise Negroes.

As finally passed by the house, the bill went to the conference committee without either the alien exclusion, the Tinkham, or the Wagner civil service amendment, and provided that instead of the new population basis for the senate bill, the next census should begin on May 1, 1930. Another senate amendment, fathered by Senator C. C. Dill [Dem., Wash.], authorizing a census of household radio receiving sets, was killed in the house.

After several days of bickering the conferees reached a compromise which was accepted by the house on Tuesday and by the senate today. The modified Wagner amendment to provide that only the several hundred special "census agents" shall be drawn from civil service eligible lists and fixed the date of the count as April 1, 1930.

JUDGE WHO SENTENCED KILLERS TO THE CHAIR ASKS FOR CLEMENCY

Judge Marcus Kavanaugh of the Supreme Court, who sentenced two guilty to the electric chair, who may pleaded guilty to charges of murder and who went before the state pardon board to oppose a motion for clemency, announced yesterday that he has changed his attitude. He recommended to the board that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

Napoleon Glover and Morgan Swan, condemned two guilty, have twice been saved by last minute reprieves. The judge said that inasmuch as they have already twice suffered the punishment of anticipation of death, he believes they will be sufficiently punished by a life sentence.

Aaron Woodward, another colored slayer, was saved from the electric chair yesterday by a reprieve granted by the governor. Woodward, a Negro, was to have been electrocuted at midnight for the murder of Police Sergeant Jeremiah O'Connell. He was given a reprieve until July 12.

Republicans in voting to adopt the conference report, while seven radical and two regular Republicans voted with the southern Democrats against the report. The senators voting against the report were:

Senate [Dem., Ala.] Holt [Dem., Ala.] Hale [Rep., Va.] King [Dem., Utah] Frasier Rep., N. D.] McKeever [Dem., Tenn.] Green [Rep., Va.] Overman [Dem., N. C.] La Follette [R., Wis.] Pittman [Dem., Tenn.] Beck [Rep., S. D.] Smith [Rep., S. D.] Schall [Rep., Minn.] Robinson [Dem., Ark.] Barkley [Dem., Ky.] Smith [Dem., S. C.] Blaine [Dem., S. C.] Stick [Dem., Ia.] Boren [Dem., La.] Swanson [Dem., Va.] Boren [Rep., Okla.] Tamm [Rep., Okla.] Connally [Dem., Tex.] Truland [Dem., Md.] Coopland [Dem., N.Y.] Trow [Dem., Tenn.] George [Dem., Ga.] Wagner [Dem., N. Y.] Glass [Dem., Va.] Walsh [Dem., Mass.] Harrison [Dem., Miss.] Wheeler [Dem., Mo.] Hayes [Dem., Mo.]

22 House Seats Involved.

The reapportionment phase of the bill leaves the present total membership of the house unchanged at 435, and, based on official estimates that the 1930 census will show a national population of approximately 123 millions, a total of 22 house seats will be involved in the proposed redistribution.

Twenty states will lose seats, as follows: Missouri, 3; Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Mississippi, 2 each; Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, and Virginia, 1 each. On the same basis 11 states will gain house seats, as follows: California, 6; Connecticut, 2; Idaho, 1; New Jersey, 1; Texas, 2 each; Alaska, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma, and Washington, 1 each.

U. S. LAUNCHES INDIANA BALLOT FRAUD INQUIRY

South Bend, Ind., June 13.—[Special.]—Oliver M. Loomis, United States district attorney, today returned after a two week absence, and announced that the federal grand jury will be reconvened Tuesday for the sole purpose of hearing any evidence offered by Lane Bryant in the case.

More than a score of witnesses will be summoned. Two of the first subpoenas issued today by Loomis were for Warren Fairbanks, president of the Indianapolis News, and Boyd Gurley, editor of the Indianapolis Times. Reporters of these papers, who have worked on the Lake county case also will be heard. Loomis said.

ALD. BOWLER MAY URGE REPEAL OF JAYWALKING LAW

First Week's Test Fails to Solve Problem.

AM. Thomas J. Bowler [41st], chairman of the council traffic committee, announced last night that he will seek a repeal of the pedestrian traffic control ordinance unless results are more satisfactory at the end of thirty days' enforcement in the enforcement of the ordinances, in the weekly police bulletin. Pedestrian control is absolutely essential for safety and the police department is making every effort to regulate traffic movement in the interest of safety, he said, urging both pedestrians and motorists to observe the signal lights.

and then decide whether to continue the rule." Commissioner Russell closed the discussion.

Loop pedestrians were urged yesterday by Russell to cooperate with the police department in the enforcement of the ordinances, in the weekly police bulletin. Pedestrian control is absolutely essential for safety and the police department is making every effort to regulate traffic movement in the interest of safety, he said, urging both pedestrians and motorists to observe the signal lights.

"I won't quarrel with you on that point," Commissioner Russell replied.

"I know there are a lot of arguments both for and against pedestrian control. I'm open minded on the subject. Let's give the system a fair trial and if it doesn't work, repeal the law."

Caught by Right-Hand Turns.

Capt. Frank Matchett, in charge of the traffic division, and Lester J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, were called into the conference. Both expressed approval of the experiment.

"The trouble now," said Mr. Sorenson, "is due to the fact that pedestrians are barred by the policemen from crossing the street against the red light and when the lights turn green the walkers are blocked by automobile making right hand turns."

"This is a minor difficulty that can be eliminated by the police holding back the motorist who wants to make a turn until the jamb of pedestrians gets across with the green light."

"That would be a great improvement," interposed Capt. Matchett, "if it were physically possible. But the loop streets aren't wide enough to allow right turn traffic in a separate traffic lane. Therefore, if a policeman were to halt one auto about to make a right turn it would hold up a string of cars in the rear that want to go straight ahead. So that's out."

Doesn't Make Walking Safer.

"Doesn't pedestrian regulation make for greater safety?" Capt. Matchett was asked.

"No," he replied, "we don't hope for any decrease in the number of accidents. The loop, with 1,500,000 people in it daily, has been remarkably free of accidents under the jump-when-possible system. But we can, speed the auto traffic."

"And you'll be doing it at the expense of the pedestrian," Ald. Bowler commented lugubriously. "Chicagoan who sprint along the sidewalk have than any people in the world, due under the idea of losing time at street corners."

Let's give it three more weeks.

SAYS PERSHING ASKED FURTHER WAR AFTER ARMISTICE PROPOSAL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New Haven, Conn., June 13.—That Gen. Pershing "was the only one who did not wish to grant an armistice and urged the continuation of the offensive against Germany" is the charge made by Prof. Charles Seymour, an historian at Yale University, in an article in Yale Review, which Prof. Seymour says reveals what he calls the inside story of some events that preceded the end of the world war after a study of the papers of Col. Edward House.

Prof. Seymour cites stories that gave President Wilson credit for "the armistice and a premature peace" and that, except for Wilson and his influence on allied leaders, Foch would have led his triumphant armies across the Rhine and dictated peace in Berlin.

"Such stories and charges are based upon a misconception," Prof. Seymour writes, then quotes from papers which he obtained from Col. House. The professor quotes Col. House as saying, "Will you tell us, M. Le Marchal, solely from a military point of view, apart from any other consideration, whether you would prefer the armistice to be signed or the armistice as outlined here?"

To this Foch is quoted as replying: "Fighting means struggling for certain results. I make war for the results we are in our possession. These results, achieved, no man has the right to cause another drop of blood to be shed."

Prof. Seymour declares that when Col. House told Gen. Pershing's memorandum advising the continuance of war, before Premiers Georges Clemenceau and Lloyd George, they brushed it aside with some contempt. Prof. Seymour also accuses Ray Stannard Baker of omitting key passages in publishing President Wilson's private documents, so as to put Wilson in a favorable light.

mit proposed legislation to congress which would protect the lives and liberties of the American people."

LUEDER TO LOSE POSTOFFICE JOB?

IT'S NEWS TO HIM

If there is to be a change in the postmastership in Chicago the incumbent, Arthur C. Lueder, has not been informed of it. "All these rumors that I am to be supplanted are news to me," Mr. Lueder said yesterday. "And from what my friends tell me, it doesn't seem that Senator Denen is backing such a move now."

The postmaster produced a letter from his private file which had been written by Senator Denen to a friend of the postmaster during the latter part of April. In part the letter said, according to Mr. Lueder: "I am not interesting myself in the Chicago postmastership at the present time."

"The senator has no reason to be unfriendly to me," Mr. Lueder said. "I have been helpful to him in many ways."

the killing as "wholly unjustified and unmerited."

Herbert Ouliffe Stand.

State's Attorney Hurlbert said: "The last days of inquiry have convinced me that there is going to prove murder intent on the part of this man, who stood behind an automobile and fired five shotgun shells into it. The car in which Virkula was shot to death, having twenty-six bullet marks or holes on it, is prima facie evidence of this murder-ous intent."

Further, I want this man held behind the bars without bail. That is where he belongs. In a murder charge I have the right in Minnesota to hold material witnesses, and I want that right."

Mr. Hurlbert asserted that the several investigations made by government agents and police have not satisfied him at all. He said they had based their findings entirely on what other government agents or employees have told them. He says the inquiries have been routine and biased in White's favor.

He indicated to me that he will tell the true facts before Mr. Lowman and endeavor to convince him that this is a state case and that the government should keep its hands off.

Meanwhile customs, patrolmen continued their high handed tactics.

David Olson of Chicago, salesman for the Ingalls Watch Company, drove into International Falls today in a black automobile. On both sides he had painted in big white letters, "Don't shoot—I am no rum runner—no liquor in this car." He had no more than parked at the curb when Customs Patrolman Sullivan stepped up, unbuttoned his badge, and ordered him to obtrude the sign.

Mr. Olson at first refused.

"Well," said Sullivan, "I could make a pinch of this. I don't know whether I could make it stick, but I could make it damn miserable for you all the same. Now, I don't want to do that. Go and wash the sign off."

Olson's casting aspersions at government officials.

Olson Finally Yields.

There was half an hour's talk, then Mr. Olson drove to a filling station and paid 10 cents to have the sign washed off.

"I didn't want to be thrown in jail," he explained, "so I took it off."

The Negroes escaped.

The officers, who were members of a group of six on their way to raid a still near Richmond, say they received a shotgun fire from a party of Negroes as they approached their destination. The Negroes escaped.

International Falls, Minn., June 12.

—[Special.]—Outstanding developments today in the killing last Saturday of Henry Virkula, Big Falls confectioner, by customs patrolmen were:

State's Attorney David Hurlbert of Koochiching county declared that when Emmett White, the patrolman who killed Virkula, comes up for preliminary hearing Monday he will demand that the charge of second degree manslaughter, now standing against White be changed to one of murder.

The government, through a long distance telephone conversation between G. A. Youngquist, attorney general of Minnesota, and Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, announced that it will do its utmost to defend White and to justify his act despite the fact that Henry A. Roberts, special treasury agent, following an investigation, characterized DISCIPLINE COP WHO ACTED AS CARBARY'S AIDAurora Mayor Acts in Case of Snopers.

Mayor Charles H. Greene of Aurora took action yesterday to discipline Police Sgt. Lester Wedemeyer, whose secret employment by State's Attorney George D. Carbary of Kane county was revealed when the board of supervisors rejected the expense accounts of Carbary's dry snopers and other employees.

Corporation Counsel John Hart was instructed to prefer charges against Wedemeyer and also to make written protest to the board of supervisors against any payment to the police sergeant, who had submitted a bill for $130.

"We respectfully protest against the action of the state's attorney in attempting to use members of the Aurora police department, whose salary is paid by the taxpayers of the city, to furnish secret information to any outside agency when such information is desired to the chief of the department of which the officer is a member," Hart's letter read.

Watched "Liquor" Garage.

Mr. Hart suggested that if Carbary entered into any contract with Wedemeyer that any resultant payments should be made from the personal funds of the prosecutor and not from the county treasury.

The state's attorney, Mr. Carbary, and his assistant, Carleton Shultz, are well aware that the promises of awards to police officers of the city much strengthen the purchase of information," Hart asserted.

Mr. Carbary said Wedemeyer was employed to watch a garage in Aurora which was supposed to be a depot for liquor runners from Chicago. Wedemeyer said this was overtime work, as it was at night after he had finished his tour of duty for the city, and that he saw nothing wrong in the added compensation and that he was neither an investigator or snoper for the prosecutor.

Wedemeyer is known as one of the best men on the Aurora force. He was shot by Walter Stevens, notorious Chicago gunman, several years ago and his testimony resulted in Stevens' only imprisonment in the Joliet penitentiary.

Mayor Greene said the Aurora police at all times have cooperated with the state's attorney, but that Chief of Police A. G. Wirs had no knowledge of Wedemeyer's connection with Carbary's pay roll. Since the killing of Mrs. Lillian D. King by one of Carbary's dry raiders there have been several disclosures regarding the man employed by Carbary, and considerable resentment in Aurora over Carbary's raids.

Carbary Protests Action.

Prosecutor Carbary also wrote to the board of supervisors yesterday about the bills of his employee. In rejecting them the supervisors declared that such man would have to appear personally and explain the bills, item by item. The prosecutor objects to this procedure, saying that in this manner the identity of his snoper will be exposed and "a boot-legger, gamblers and gamblers, and their effectiveness destroyed thereby."

In justification of the expenses submitted by his employee Carbary stated he had received $18,000 from the county for "clean up work" and that he had collected $39,000 in fines as a result of that expenditure.

Washington, D. Watkins' recommendation to the court that the ad interim be named.

Detroit, Mich., June 14.—Although it was a heavy border patrol and manpower in the lake, the coast guard headquarters in Detroit officials charged with jurisdiction against the rum runners are noncommittal.

Walter S. Petty, customs, today said he does not intend to move his office. "If I were setting this," he said, "I would be setting this." "I have been here 500 in border

Adds Legal Help

Washington, D. C., June 13.—Attorney General William D. Mitchell today authorized the employment of two additional assistant United States attorneys at Detroit, and proposed to the court there that an additional United States commissioner be appointed to hear liquor cases.

Mr. Mitchell took his action after a conference with John R. Watkins, United States attorney in Detroit, who laid the entire smuggling situation before his superior. Watkins will make the recommendation to the federal court that the additional commissioners be named.

Detroit, Mich., June 13.—[Special]—Although it was revealed the customs border patrol has doubled its manpower in the last few days and that the coast guard has established headquarters in Detroit, government officials charged with enforcing prohibition are not committed to their immediate program.

Waiver S. Petty, acting collector of customs, today said the government does not intend to give publicity to its movements.

"If I were setting out to track a thief," he said, "I wouldn't hire a press band."

500 in Border Patrol.

Importation of agents from other states has increased the ranks of the border patrol to about 500. Establishment of secret headquarters in a downtown building by the coast guard indicates a closer cooperation between the two agencies, observers said.

The coast guard is charged with patrolling the coast line of the great lakes, while the border patrol is allotted the so-called "inland waters," specifically the Detroit river and tributaries. Previously, questions of jurisdiction kept both organizations from venturing too close to the border line between the river and Lake Erie.

Report to Airplanes.

The present concentration of forces and equipment along the Detroit front is without precedent in the history of prohibition. According to reports, it has led to a powwow of the big

WELCOMING THE THIRD PARTY.

Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart of Iowa says that if the debenture plan cannot be put in the farm bill or the tariff bill a third party must be formed in every congressional district. If it is put in a bill and the bill is vetoed, the third party candidate for President should be the answer.

Mr. Brookhart has an excellent idea. It is an admirable thought. A third party is needed. It should find congenial elements north and south, east and west. It should draw from both the Republican and Democratic parties as a surgical drain.

Mr. Brookhart would represent his own state of Iowa. Bishop James Cannon, as committeeman for Virginia, would bring in a fine spirit of reverence for the fugitive slave law and for nullification of the bill of rights. Senator Heflin of Alabama would be the party's silver-tongued advocate of intolerance. John Roach Stratton for New York, Clarence True Wilson for Oregon and Washington, D. C. the Rev. Mr. Shumaker for Indiana, the Rev. Mr. Holms for Michigan, and Melvin Willeybrandt for California will contribute to its principles a devotion for life imprisonment, machine gunning, and poisoned beverages.

Mr. Borah may or may not wish to qualify completely by holding out one hand of political fellowship to Blaine and La Follette of Wisconsin and the other to Bishop Nicholson and Scott McBride. The radicalism of the north can meet the fundamentalism of the south. Negro peonage and nullification of franchise rights will join in sympathy with the Jones 5 and 16 law and with life for a pint.

The new party will have for its slogan, "To Hell with the Constitution."

For its emblem it will have the sawed-off shotgun.

THE MAN PAYS.

Scarcely a week and never a month goes by without some prominent citizen getting his name and his picture in the papers for attempted smuggling. Not the least remarkable aspect of the matter is the frequency with which bankers and others whose principal stock in trade is a reputation for scrupulous honesty are caught with the goods. Their willingness to risk their reputations for profit by a few thousand dollars which can mean little to men of their means is worthy of an extended study by students of human behavior.

Generally the articles smuggled have been bought by and for the banker's women folk, a circumstance which renders the man's position even more ignominious. He stands before the world as a man who has been driven to dishonesty by those who ought to be most jealous of his honor and most amenable to his will. His position is embarrassing and it ought to be.

No one enjoys paying import duties, but men pay more willingly than women. The moral seems to be that men returning from abroad with their wives and daughters should take upon themselves the task of filling in the customs blanks.

A BILL TO WASTE
GOVERNMENT MONEY.

The Norris resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals has been reported favorably to the Senate by the committee on agriculture. Last year an identical measure was defeated by the pocket veto of President Coolidge, and the recent Supreme court decision on the validity of the pocket veto confirmed the doom of the first Norris bill.

Senator Norris is a member of the bloc committed to government operation and exploitation of power. In the case of Muscle Shoals we fear that these men are prepared to neglect or sacrifice sound business principles for the sake of experimenting with a doctrine. Nearly $120,000,000 has been expended at Muscle Shoals. That may have been a legitimate wartime outlay, although Muscle Shoals did not produce a pound of nitrogen. Millions more are needed to complete the project either for the development of water power or for the fixation of nitrogen.

Further investment in Muscle Shoals either by private capital or by the government would be a speculation. Moreover, in the case of the government it would be an experiment. Without adequate experience or equipment and with the pre-disposition of public organizations to wasteful and blundering administration, the government would undertake to compete with private industry, and the chance for success would be slight. If the venture, however, should be successful the power industry would undoubtedly be discouraged in the further development of the country's resources. In our judgment that is not a desirable condition.

More probable, according to the experience of the government in the railroad and shipping industries, would be a failure of the government in the power business at Muscle Shoals. Thereby the original investment of $120,000,000, together with the additional millions spent to finish the project as well as the operating losses, would be charged to the taxpayers. Also, during the process of the experiment, the power industry, because of the uncertainty, would be likely to abandon its water power program. That reaction is illustrated in the west, where the utilities are reducing their expenditures for capturing water power because of the uncertainty which the Boulder dam project has created.

The proper disposal of Muscle Shoals is by sale. The American Cyanamid company asks for a fifty year lease of dams and power plants and the use of the nitrate plants without rental. As a condition of the lease, the government would be required to expend $25,000,000 in completing the works. That would be an unsound transaction for the reason that, just as in the case of government operation, more millions would be poured into a fundamentally weak venture. The best business practice would be to sell Muscle Shoals outright as a nonproductive liability and accept the loss as a better bargain than a greater loss by holding it.

PLEADING URGENCY FOR A HANDOUT.

The department of public works has asked the city council to vote a supplementary appropriation of $1,070,000 for the disposal of garbage and refuse. The petition for more money is supported by the explanation that the present dumps are located at such a distance from the city that the number of hauls each day is substantially reduced.

When Col. A. A. Sprague was commissioner of public works the disposal of refuse and garbage was conducted as efficiently as the other activities of the bureau. Col. Sprague did not go to the council in the middle of the year for a million dollars more. If the former commissioner of public works could arrange to have the garbage carried off at a reasonable cost the present commissioner can do as well with an honest desire to save money and with competent advice. Instead of producing reasons why he should be given more money to spend, Mr. Wolfe might first consult Col. Sprague on how the job can be done on the present budget. If Col. Sprague is satisfied that the department has a legitimate requirement, the public would not suspect the department of public works of bungling the work of garbage disposal as it has bungled the street repair program. The record of Mr. Wolfe does not inspire confidence in the necessity of his present request.

INVITING MR. MAC DONALD.

Apologetic Americanism is all-a-twitter over the report that the prime minister of Great Britain will come to visit the President of the United States if invited. Mr. Hoover will be able to buy back the Mayflower without a twinge of conscience if he will sell to the ragman all the telegrams and letters he is going to receive urging him to get Mr. MacDonald on the radio telephone at once and tell him the best bedroom is all ready for him and don't hesitate to bring the dog. Mr. Peabody of Massachusetts will demand that the President go to meet the prime minister at the twelve mile limit, so as to begin at once the apportioning for the British debt payment, the retreat from Mons, the submarine campaign, the war of 1812, and the spirit of '76. At Quarantine the prime minister should be met by the envoys of the Association Opposed to Militarism, the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the American Peace society, etc., with the secretary of state, treasury, and navy in person bearing signed treaties remitting the British debt and reducing the navy in accordance with terms to be granted by the prime minister after consultation with the admiralty.

Mr. Brookhart would represent his own state of Iowa. Bishop James Cannon, as committeeman for Virginia, would bring in a fine spirit of reverence for the fugitive slave law and for nullification of the bill of rights. Senator Heflin of Alabama would be the party's silver-tongued advocate of intolerance. John Roach Stratton for New York, Clarence True Wilson for Oregon and Washington, D. C. the Rev. Mr. Shumaker for Indiana, the Rev. Mr. Holms for Michigan, and Melvin Willeybrandt for California will contribute to its principles a devotion for life imprisonment, machine gunning, and poisoned beverages.

Mr. Borah may or may not wish to qualify completely by holding out one hand of political fellowship to Blaine and La Follette of Wisconsin and the other to Bishop Nicholson and Scott McBride.

PREVENTING MOSQUITO BREEDING.

HERE are several methods for preventing mosquito breeding. Among these are draining, the use of top oil, oil sprays, and the use of larvicide. Each method has its advantages. Each is especially suited to certain places and unsuited to others. For use on ponds, lakes, impounded waters and marsh lands, in all of which there is much grass, weeds, and logs and floating rubbish, larvicide is superior to oil spray. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—As a result of the coming of Msgr. Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, archbishop of Michoacan, and Bishop Parcuel Diaz of Tabasco, Vatican emissaries, in an effort to solve the Mexican religious question, the famous militant priest, Aristotele Pedrosa, who has half a hundred battles to his credit in the last three years, has offered to surrender, "in the interest of peace and the reconstruction of Mexico."

Pedrosa, as the most active, dared leader of the revolution, is the center of his operations in the state of Jalisco, but often led his cristeros forces into adjoining states when pressure by the federal army became strong. He had a large following wherever he went, among the Indians and Mexicans.

Rebels who had been fortifying Coalcoman, Michoacan, for the last two months, have evacuated the town without offering battle to 6,000 federal troops massed nearby. Preliminary attacks by bombing planes, which created havoc among the rebel cavalry, decided the fate of the expected battles before hostilities had opened.

The "Black Hand" revolutionary band, headed by the notorious General Romero, yesterday was cut to pieces by several troops. Romero was captured and court-martialed on the field of battle. He was shot near Palmira, on the Mexican National railway between Juarez and Mexico City.

Romero refused to answer questions put by the council of war, and went to his death before a firing squad without uttering a word to incriminate himself, rebels said.

Forty "Black Hands" were found dead on the field of battle, and twenty-one prisoners were taken.

Others at the small tea party included Mrs. James Good, wife of the secretary of war; Mrs. William D. Mitchell, wife of the attorney general; Mrs. Arthur M. Free, wife of the California congressman; Mrs. Clyde Kelly, wife of the Pennsylvania congressman, and Miss Grace Burton, wife of the Ohio senator.

At the White House it was explained that the tea was a formal affair, which was the last of a series of similar functions given by Mrs. Hoover, in honor of the wives of congressmen.

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Members of the customs liquor squad will board ships resting at piers in New York and make arrests, under the Jones law, according to an unofficial ruling at the customs house today following a conference between high customs officials and representatives of the French line.

The conference, the result of the apprehension of a bootlegger on the pier of the steamer France on Wednesday night and the catching of an engineer laden with cognac, ostensibly for shore delivery.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

RECORD ADVERTISING REVENUE AND SALES

The twenty-fourth annual ordinary general meeting of the Associated News-Globe, Ltd. (Proprietors of The Daily Mail, The London Evening News and The Sunday Dispatch) was held in The Mayfair Hotel, Mayfair, London, on June 11, 1929, and our record was set.

The Whitenside holiday, was made up of a further increase during the week, and our record was set.

The Daily Mail still continues to challenge as the supreme advertising medium and wider use has been made of its advertising opportunities, while the Financial and industrial advertising has increased during the year.

The Advertisers' report and the balance sheet were sent out with the notice convening the meeting and you will, I assume, as usual, take it as read.

The profits of the Company for the year ended March 31, amounted to £1,200,000—£6,000. This very satisfactory figure was arrived at notwithstanding the year was one of great developments and therefore of increased competition.

We have provided our readers with bigger and better newspapers. Our news service has been increased and our correspondents have introduced many new features which have met with the approval of our readers; also, as you doubtless have noticed, we are now providing in large measure the news of the day.

The result of our enterprise, you will agree, is eminently satisfactory.

The Holders of the preference and ordinary shares have received their dividends in accordance with the articles of association and holders of the deferred shares have been paid quarterly dividends of one per cent. for the last year. The sum of £50,012 4s 1d is carried forward, compared with £49,346 1s 1d last year.

The valuable good-will does not figure in the balance sheet. The buildings and plant have been amply depreciated and are kept in a state of the highest efficiency; the stock of paper and other materials are ample for our needs. The value of our investments shown in the balance sheet, is considerably below the present market value.

The loan to The Empire Paper Mills (1922) Ltd. (of which we hold the stock) has been repaid, and the sum of £70,000. Consequently upon the increase in the revenue from sales and advertisements, our debtors have increased.

Our cash position is very satisfactory and is more than sufficient for our present requirements.

The two staff pension funds now amount to over £150,000.

STEADY INCREASE. At the last general meeting it was expressed that a steady hold in the volume of advertising would be the best guarantee of success for the year; this has been fully justified and I firmly believe that the increase in the revenue from sales and advertisements will be reflected in increased revenue next year.

The gratifying result of our advertising is again reflected in the increase in the volume of advertising which has been made by our advertisers and the increase in the revenue from sales and advertisements, our debtors have increased.

Our cash position is very satisfactory and is more than sufficient for our present requirements.

The strict censorship of all advertising continues and there is a sufficient evidence to show that our present requirements are being fully met.

I might just instances that a few months ago we received a full page advertisement in The Daily Mail produced by the advertising agent of a well-known firm, and I firmly believe that the increase in the revenue from sales and advertisements will be reflected in increased revenue next year.

Many instances of gratifying result might be quoted but the best proof of this is to be found in the increased and increasing demand for our advertising.

AND SALES

With more than 200 advertising during the course of the week. Last week, however, I have to report that, just before the holiday, the advertising bill there is every prospect of an increase during the year to come upon the year.

Mail still sends unsolicited British advertising and wider use than ever in its advertising columns.

Financial advertising in The Evening News, as the home newspaper for the surrounding districts, and among the largest evening papers, has been greatly increased in the year. The big drug and stores great increased figures in The Evening News for this class of advertising, about 25 per cent.

The previous week, according to the Sunday Dispatch, was promptly taken advantage of by the increase in sales to almost recover and the year again shows substantial new newspaper in not ranging most influential nation-wide for reaching the upper income groups.

In general meeting a belief that a steady increase in advertising might be this has been fully justified.

Believe the progress this is making will again increase revenue when we

COPLEY DENIES HE'S LINKED TO POWER "TRUST"

Dares Norris to Repeat Charge Out of Senate.

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—A denial of charges made by Senator George W. Norris in congress that he was linked with the power industry, today was made before the federal trade commission by Ira C. Copley, newspaper publisher. Copley declared he would take court action if the Nebraska would repeat his statements to the privileged senate floor.

The publisher, who testified at the commission's inquiry into utility publicity activities at his own request, issued his denial to the senator in a statement submitted to the commission. Chairman Edgar A. McCulloch refused, however, to permit Copley to read his statement or to introduce it in the record.

In his testimony, Copley reviewed his former ownership of the Western United corporation and its subsidiaries which served rural districts of Illinois with gas and electric power, and explained he had sold his entire $7,470,000 block of securities in that concern when he entered the newspaper publishing field.

Deals Owning Utility Stock.
He declared that he did not now own a single share of public utility stock.

While asserting he owned no utility securities, Copley testified he held in his name 12,500 shares with a par value of $1,356,000 belonging to his wife, his sister, and W. W. Tracy of Springfield, Ill. He said there also was a Chicago bank for which he had been paid one-fifth of the purchase price and at present was drawing the dividends.

In concluding his testimony, Copley declared he was "an old fashioned American citizen," and did not believe "a senator of the government or an agency of the government" or "any other person" had a right to injure his reputation or my business by making or publishing reckless and baseless charges affecting me and my business integrity."

Says Reputation Damaged.

He cited an instance of what he described as damage to his reputation which he occurring in San Diego, Calif., following Senator Norris' charges in the senate against him last May 20. "While my wife, her sister, and a friend and I were in an automobile," he said, "a newsboy shoved a paper into our car and said: 'Latest edition, all about the new scandal on old man Copley.'"

In reply to questioning by Robert L. Kelly, chief commission counsel, the publisher testified he had favored the construction of Boulder dam and went "farther than most people by supporting it with or without power."

Chicagoan Testifies.
The other witness of today's session, W. J. Sylvester of Chicago, secretary and organizer of the Industrial Conservation Board, Inc., described a plan of his organization to utilize newspaper publicity, the lecture platform, radio broadcasting, the school rooms and the moving picture screen in a campaign to oppose government ownership of industries in competition with private interests.

RUSSELL CLOSES PLAY "HARLEM"; 2D THIS WEEK

Censorship of stage plays in Chicago by the police department went a step farther yesterday when Commissioner Russell ordered "Harlem," an all-colored production at the New Apollo, to close after last night's performance. This is the second show closed this week by Commissioner Russell. "Frankie and Johnnie" being forced to discontinue on Wednesday.

The commissioner's action was taken after the board of censors placed a ban on the play to have the "Harlem" was "indecent, being dispensed with indecent scenes and dialogue. One scene, the censors reported, was that of a shooting in a disorderly house, and another featured a dance of a suggestive nature. Revocation of the license of the theater and arrest of the members of the company will result if the police order is not complied with, the commissioner said.

"I am determined that indecent shows shall not play in Chicago," said Commissioner Russell. "Other plays of a similar nature will face the same action if attempts are made to show them here."

Wilson's Daughter Denies She's Candidate for Senate

Boston, Mass., June 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessie Woodrow Sayre, daughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, issued a denial of reports that she was to be a candidate for United States senator today through the Jefferson society of Massachusetts.

"My husband's present duties require him to remain in Cambridge, and I care too much for my husband, my children and my home, to follow a course which would take me away from them," she said.

U. S. BANKING HEIR BUYS WAY OUT OF FRENCH BASTILLE

PARIS, June 12.—Thomas Fortune Ryan II, who was arrested on the pier at Havre as he was about to sail for the United States, on a charge of having cashed several thousand dollars in bad checks, bought himself out of the French bastille tonight with a check sufficient to satisfy his Montmarie creditors.

With the help of a doctor and lawyer, the son of the big New York newspaperman's family managed to talk to the examining magistrate how he happened to commit such a bad bank.

The chief complaint, Peppe d'Albro, manager of the famous "Chez Florence," said that Ryan did a lot of fine and apples drinking at his night club and usually paid in checks.

"Sometimes the checks were good, sometimes not," said Peppe, "but of course when you are that you was going on the Isle de France, I had the police at Le Havre inform him of about $55,000 in bills unpaid."

Ryan and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Moorhead Rea of Pittsburgh, came to Paris in January and went on to Egypt. On their return his wife fell ill and went to the American hospital at Neuilly.

When Mrs. Ryan came back from the hospital, she found a line of creditors at the door, so to speak, and paid all of hubby's bills with the exception of what he rung up in the Mont-marie.

When the son of the big New York newspaperman's family managed to talk to the examining magistrate how he happened to commit such a bad bank.

Giant Air Liner Crashes in Cuba; 1 Killed, 5 Hurt

Blame Inadequate Landing Field for Tragedy.

By DEAN SANBORN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
HAVANA, June 13.—John Griffith, American radio operator, was burned to death, and Gen. George Taylor, official of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., is not expected to live as a result of the crash of a Ford trimotored air liner of the Pan-American Airways when it took off from Santiago, Cuba, for Havana this morning. Four other passengers were injured.

Lynn Johnson of Havana, Earl Graham, Havana representative of the Detroit Graphite company, and A. W. French, assistant traffic manager of the Pan-American Airways, were injured and burned. The latter's condition is said to be serious. Johnson and Graham were injured in their heroic work of rescuing Gen. and Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Taylor escaped with minor injuries.

Hits Telephone Wires.

The plane, burdened with a heavy load of mail and passengers, had trouble in taking off on the small field, and after getting clear, circled over the bay at low altitude. Seeing trouble, the pilot attempted to guide the plane back to the landing field, but the wheels struck the telephone wires. The plane crashed and burst into flames.

Pilot Elmore was thrown clear of the plane, landing on his head. He was seriously injured, as was also the mechanic.

An inquest is being held by Santiago officials and an investigation into the cause of the accident has been ordered by Cuban officials.

Blame Inadequate Landing Field.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 13.—(AP)—Investigation was begun this afternoon by municipal authorities into the crash this morning of a Ford trimotored plane of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., in which A. E. Griffith, American radio operator, was burned to death.

It was understood municipal authorities attributed the accident to inadequacy of the landing field, which, according to semi-official reports, several months ago was pronounced "small and dangerous—particularly during the rainy season."

PLANES LOCKED ABOVE CLOUDS; 1 DIES; 1 ESCAPES

San Antonio, Tex., June 13.—(AP)—Flying Cadet L. H. Troup, 24, student in the advanced flying school at Kelly field, and Flying Cadet and Flying Cadet Floyd Burman Wood, 21, escaped death by taking to his parachute when their planes locked wings over Kelly field today.

The planes, both P-1 pursuit models, fell from an altitude of 6,000 feet. Cadet Troup's home was in Tulsa, Okla.

The planes were flying in two three-ship formations. The wings of the two planes came together while the flyers were moving into position, and flyers at Kelly field had their first intimation of the accident when Wood came down out of the clouds clinging to his parachute.

1 Killed, 1 Injured, at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia., June 13.—(AP)—Tom Taylor, Des Moines, is near death, and Tom Miller, Des Moines, is suffering from serious injuries, the result of an airplane crash early today. The plane, a monoplane, struck a tree, nosed over, breaking the landing gear and propeller, and landed in a field.

AVIATION NOTES

New passenger air lines are to be opened in the southwest shortly, according to M. V. Little, traffic manager of the Southern Air Fast Express at St. Louis, who was in Chicago yesterday. The new lines, which will extend from St. Louis through Tulsa and West Worth to Dallas, will extend its line to Big Spring and Sweetwater, Tex., Saturday. On July 1 this line expects to start a passenger service between El Paso and Los Angeles in competition with the Standard Air Lines.

The new air shuttle service for mail and passengers between Grant Park and the Municipal airport will open the first of next week. It was stated yesterday that the first flight was to be made on June 18.

labor conference of the women's Improvement company, was killed in a stone quarry at Thornton yesterday.

MONTREAL, June 13.—(Special)—

This weekend is the tenth anniversary of the famous flight across the Atlantic by Alcock and Brown. An elaborate celebration has been planned and in various parts of the British empire overland the John Alcock will be commemorated. Sir John Alcock has just died to see the tenth anniversary of his conquest of the Atlantic, but his flying mate, Sir Arthur Whitten Brown, will be the center of all eyes in England on Saturday when the royal air force pays him honor by a great pageant in the air.

MONTEVIDEO, June 13.—(AP)—

The new air shuttle service for mail and passengers between Grant Park and the Municipal airport will open the first of next week. It was stated yesterday that the first flight was to be made on June 18.

HOSE BEAR DOWN IN TENTH; BEAT SENATORS, 11-8

Faber Loses 4 Run Lead in the Ninth.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., June 13.—Rod Faber, who had held the lead for three runs in the ninth round today, and four Senators went clamoring over the plate to tie up what had looked to be an easy White Sox triumph. But the sudden fadeout of the veteran did no harm.

Ted Lyons rushed to the rescue, the Chicagoans popped right back into the three run rally of Submarine Ad Lipsky, and the tenth and the Senators then stayed down for keeps in the opener of the series. The score was 11 to 8.

Had Faber been able to avoid the embarrassments of that four run splurge in the ninth, Berg doubled, Faber walked, and Shires grounded out, and a walk to Hoffman loaded the bases. Watwood beat out a high bouncer to third and, Faber scored, but Metzler was nipped at the plate.

The sad music for Faber in the home ninth started with Hayes getting a single on a fly ball Watwood should have caught. Tate, who had been nipped, also scored. Myer did the same, driving in a run. Then Rice tripped to right center, scoring two more, and Faber was dumped overboard. Goslin, batting for West, greeted Rescuer Lyons with a double on the first pitch, scoring Rice with the tying run.

When the tenth chapter started Lipsky's underhand delivery was summoned and the Sox gave him action. The first to face him was Kamm, who walked. Cissell doubled so right. To round out a big day both afield and at bat, Johnny Kerr drove them home with a triple to right center. Berg kept things going with a two bagger, Kerr scoring.

The Sox were given a bit of assistance in the scoring of two runs in the first inning. Metzler opened with a pass and Shires hoisted a fly close to the foul line in left. The fielder muffed it. Hoffman, who had to perform despite a sore arm because of a hand injury to Reynolds, then slapped a single to center, and Metzler ran home. But Shires was nipped again on this play, to third on a passed ball and over the plate on Kamm's single through short.

Sensors Hit Hard in First.
Faber's painful first round opened with Myer bunting the first ball and beating it for a hit. Rice cracked the first pitch for a single to center. West also sought out the initial pitch and looped it into the left field corner for a triple. Myer was also scoring home. West remained at third while Kerr was tossing out Barnes, but Cronin was healthy enough to clout a long fly to Watwood in center. West scored after the catch and a pop-up of Judge's bat concluded the chapter.

The Sox took a 4 to 3 lead in the fourth. Watwood singled and Kamm doubled. Watwood came home while Cissell was being thrown out, and Kamm scored on a perfect squeeze bunt by Kerr.

Three more Chicagoans went zipping over the counter in the sixth. A pass to Kamm with one deposited instituted this rally. Cissell whacked a single past third. Kerr again stepped into the breach. He lined a double to right center, scoring Kamm and Cissell. Berg then bounded to Erazion who failed in an attempt to nail Kerr at third. A moment later a double steal was started, and Kerr counted, but Berg was run down between first and second.

Faber was annoyed by a couple of hits that scored a run in the sixth. Barnes fanned and Cronin got a Washington, D. C., June 13.—George Connally no longer is a member of the White Sox pitching staff.

After pitching in batting practice this afternoon he was summoned to one side by Manager Blackburne and handed an envelope which was a transportation ticket to Chicago.

After gathering his effects there the veteran will be handed more than a transportation money to convey him to Dallas, Tex., where he will go to work for the Texas League club of that place.

Connally's removal from the big league ranks was caused by his inclination to take his labors too lightly.

LILLIAN S. WINS TRIPLE BAR JUMP AT HORSE SHOW

Araby Acres Winner in 5 Gaited Event.

Lillian S. galloped gallantly through the rain and hurried herself over the rails speed eight feet apart to win the triple bar jump yesterday afternoon at the horse show at the South Shore Country club.

Four times the judges called her back together with several others, each time setting the bar higher and asking for four jumps at each trip. One by one the horses failed until only Lillian S., Shy Agar, star, and Flying Andy remained. That was the order in which the judges placed them.

Lillian S. is a 7 year old bay mare owned by Fox Chapel farms of Sharpe, Pa.

Scrapes Middle Bar.

For a time Red Prince seemed a likely winner. Superbly ridden, he soared over the rails as though they were toadstools, but, at last, incurred the penalty of touching his fence. Coming up on one of the jumps a hind foot scraped the middle rail, knocking it off.

Araby Acres, owned by W. D. Alexander of Bloomington, Ill., won the event for five gaited saddle horses one of the best of the afternoon. Dixie's Country Gentleman was second.

The three gaited saddle horse event found the judges plunged in deep deliberation to choose between Choice Sashet and The Golfer. The two were called out alone and put through the walk, trot and canter under the sharp eyes of some of the best critics in the country. Eventually the blue ribbon was pinned to the bridle of Choice Sashet.

Rain Mars Show.

It was during this event that a drizzle began, and during the remainder of the afternoon the patter of raindrops on the roofs of the boxes blended with the beating of hoofs.

To Meet the New Tempo of Business -

THE McGRAW-HILL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Announces that

THE MAGAZINE OF BUSINESS

will hereafter be Published Weekly under the title of

THE BUSINESS WEEK

Beginning with the Issue of September 7, 1929

Speed and Spread!

How fast the pace of business has grown in the brief span of only three business generations!

How vast the changes in a few short years: quantity production . . . mass distribution . . . chain stores . . . new competition . . . new importance to color and design . . . a new financial structure . . . and most important of all, research . . . creating new industries . . . destroying old ones . . . releasing thousands of workmen . . . finding new tasks for them . . . vast new forces touching business everywhere.

So complex is business today that business men must have above all else—a knowledge of all the business news. Business is no longer local. The collapse of the wheat market in Chicago is not a local affair nowadays. It is not even a western matter. It has its repercussions in Wall Street. It has its meaning to the radio industry . . . It may hurt the silk importer . . . help the rayon mill.

A bank failure in Germany means something today to the hardware manufacturer in New Britain . . . It may well happen that it will mean more than the crash of a bank at home.

And yet, with the expanding need for business facts . . . for business news, there is still no single publication that provides the business man with a timely, complete and accurate record and interpretation of the news as it affects the conduct of his business.

The business man who reads the daily newspaper, his trade or industry paper and the business journals is still without that master-key to the news that he so badly needs in the fast-paced tempo of present-day business.

Over a period of years the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company has been studying this growing problem of modern business. The first step in its solution of the problem was the acquisition of The Magazine of Business, the second a systematic, first-hand study of the needs of this publication's readers; the third an analysis and organization of the sources of news.

*Now a final step: THE BUSINESS WEEK, the transformation of The Magazine of Business into a weekly journal of Business News and Interpretation.*

THE BUSINESS WEEK with its appearance on September, is the answer to the new compulsions of speed and spread! It will be preeminently the business man's journal of business news, vital and vivacious, informative and dynamic, with something American in its every characteristic. It will be keyed to the spirit of the new tempo in business.

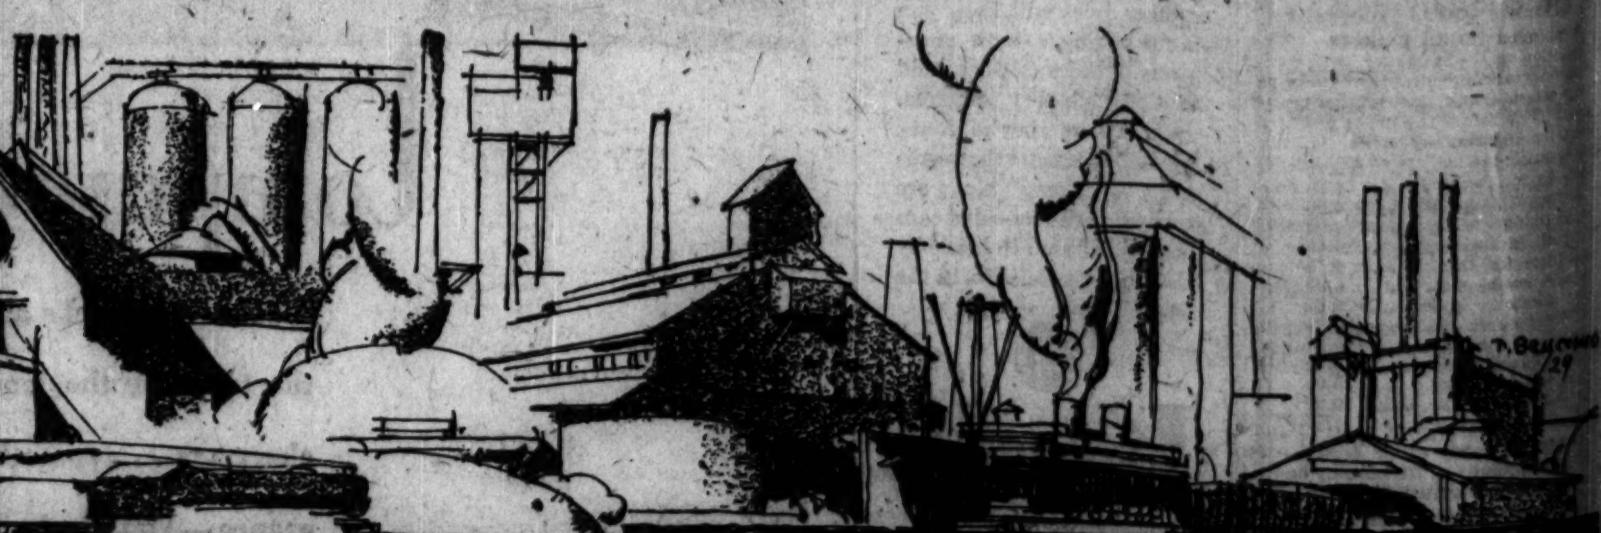

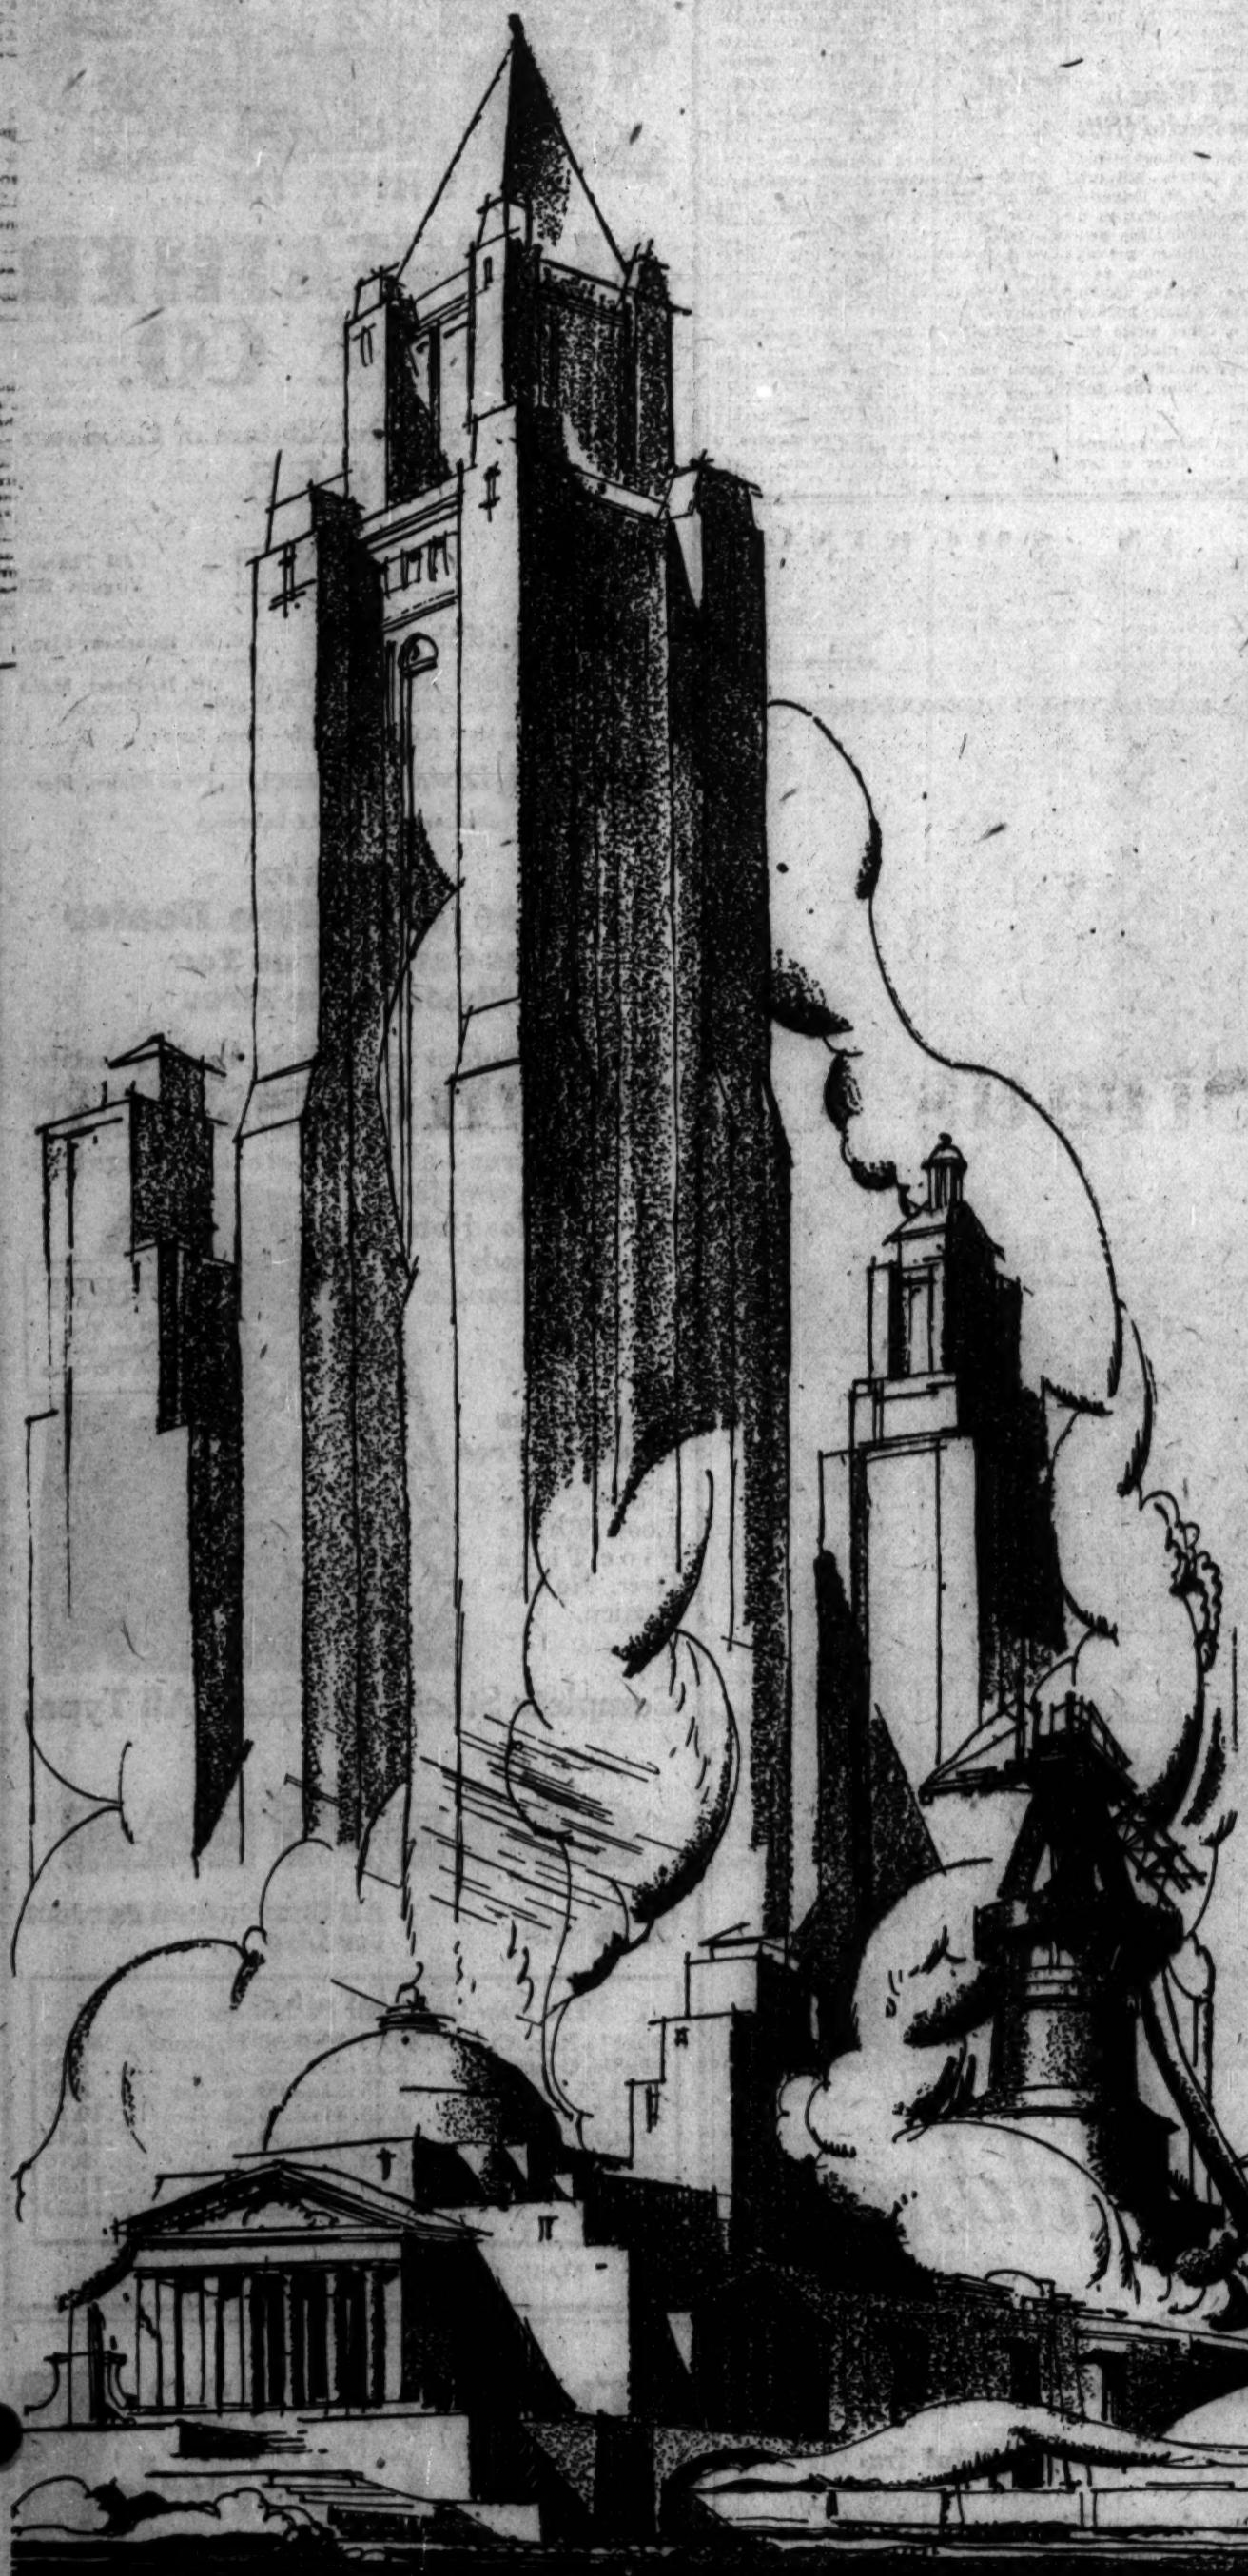

THE BUSINESS WEEK will be operated so close to the news that the business world will get the news that counts while it is still hot, but it will be sufficiently after the event to enable the editors to clothe the facts with their full significance to business men.

THE BUSINESS WEEK will be generously staffed editorially. Trained news gatherers, able and experienced feature writers, economists and statisticians will coordinate in gathering facts, in their presentation and interpretation.

The McGraw-Hill staff of 128 editors and the vast editorial resources of the 26 McGraw-Hill Publications, with their direct trunk-lines into basic industries will give THE BUSINESS WEEK a fund of specialized news, facts and forecast not available from any other publishing source.

one week between the receipt of advertising plates and distribution to the reader.

THE BUSINESS WEEK will be priced at 15c a copy, by subscription $5 a year. The advertising rate will be $600 a page. The circulation at the outset will be 75,000, net paid, A. B. C.

Business men, industrialists and engineers—600,000 of them—regularly read the 26 McGraw-Hill Publications. More than 3,000,000 use McGraw-Hill books and magazines in their business. BROKERS' LOANS STAGNANT; NO CHANGE IN TOTAL Reflect Dull Week in Stock Marts.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Reflecting the dull and irregular stock market sessions of the last week, the weekly report on brokers' loans issued by the Federal reserve bank late yesterday showed no change. This marked the first time since such figures have been compiled that two consecutive weeks have witnessed the same total. The current total of $5,284,000,000 is, however, an increase of $55,000,000 over a year ago.

It was argued in La Salle street that loans to stock brokers had also declined. The above board data include loans made to dealers in securities as well as those had been considered new financing placed in the market recently, it is suspected that loans on such securities in course of distribution expanded somewhat.

The New York banks reduced their loans to stock brokers by $25,000,000 less than a year ago. The above board data include loans to dealers in securities as well as those had been considered new financing placed in the market recently, it is suspected that loans on such securities in course of distribution expanded somewhat.

The New York banks reduced their loans by $16,000,000 and are lending $25,000,000 less than a year ago.

On the other hand, interior banks increased their loans by $38,000,000 less than a year ago. Corporations and other lenders reduced their loans by $12,000,000, but are lending $1,183,000,000 more than a year ago.

Grounds for Argument.

Grounds for another argument were furnished in the weekly statements of the reserve system, also issued last night. The consolidated report for the whole system showed that the banks increased their holdings of bankers' acceptances and government securities by $1,370,000 and $23,545,000 respectively.

On the one hand, it was argued that these purchases indicated the reserve had modified its policy of restricting open market credit. On the other hand, it was shown that the increase in bankers' acceptances was entirely due to the action of the New York bank, which took up $10,350,000 in acceptances under repurchase agreements. The increase in government securities was also said to result from the new short term treasury financing.

The statement, however, indicates no improvement in the credit situation, at least temporarily. The net earnings of the member banks declined $12,000,000, now totaling $52,911,000. Deposits expanded $10,350,000, but actual reserves fell $2,219,000. Gold and total reserves increased $22,660,00 and $9,438,000, respectively.

The ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 8.2 per cent, compared with 7.4 per cent last week.

The New York reserve bank again announced no change in its 5 per cent discount rate. Aside from the increase in acceptances, its report showed an increase of $18,758,000 in government securities, but no real decline $25,701,000. The city banks increased their loans by $13,000,000. Deposits increased $2,451,000. Reserves fell $18,715,000, and the reserve ratio stayed to 8.2 per cent, compared with 8.1 per cent a week ago.

Decline at Chicago.

The Chicago reserve bank showed a decline of $19,812,000 in member bank borrowings, which now stand at $120,172,000. The city banks cut their loans by $11,000,000. There was little change in holdings of acceptances. Deposits expanded $1,582,000. Reserves increased $19,370,000, and the reserve ratio rose to 8.1 per cent, compared with 7.9 per cent last week.

The New York reserve bank again announced no change in its 5 per cent discount rate. Aside from the increase in acceptances, its report showed an increase of $18,758,000 in government securities, but no real decline $25,701,000. The city banks increased their loans by $13,000,000. Deposits increased $2,451,000. Reserves fell $18,715,000, and the reserve ratio stayed to 8.2 per cent, compared with 8.1 per cent a week ago.

Record Set in Structural Steel Awards for Week.

The New York, June 13.—A weekly record for the year in structural steel awards of $8,000 tons was made during the last week.

Small Banker Is Worried by Branch System

BY SCRUTATOR.

The small town banker is nowadays, as a rule, a man with worries. Any idea that he can sit in an easy chair, decide by whim what loans to make and then collect fat profits, is false. As a matter of fact, the small city banker or the country banker is in the grip of economic circumstances that prevent him from making even a fair profit and threatens his existence.

Figures furnished by the Illinois Bankers' association show that 175 banks in the state have gone out of business or been forced into consolidations in the last three years, forty-eight of which had been considered new financing placed in the market recently, it is suspected that loans on such securities in course of distribution expanded somewhat.

The independent banker is nervous, too, over the possibility of branch banking systems being allowed to make a foothold in Illinois. This subject will be discussed at the coming state convention of the bankers' association, which is to be held at Aurora on June 15. Already the banks that are dominant in some states and there fears that they may come into this through congressional action permitting the national banks to branch out.

A great many of the troubles of the downstate bankers are due to the fact that there are too many institutions. Cook county has 228 banks, but the other 161 political subdivisions have nearly 1,500, several times as many proportion to population. Many of them are small. Cook county has but seventeen institutions which on Dec. 31 had less than $25,000 in earning assets. The other counties had 557 and is a director in a score of big corporations.

Directors of the Chicago Morris Plan bank yesterday voted to increase the annual dividend rate from seven to ten per cent with the declaration of a quarterly dividend of $2.50 a share. In addition they called stockholders to a meeting to be held July 1 to consider a proposed increase in the capitalization from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. If approval is given the new stock will be offered to stockholders at $200 a share on the basis of one share for each two shares held. The bank's name is to be changed to the Personal Loan and Savings bank.

Make Better Showings.

Larger banks made better showings, the net earnings moving up almost in a straight progression to the banks of largest size—those having more than ten million dollars at work. The latter class showed net of $11,88 per cent. The three classes had 18.8 per cent.

The net earnings of these smaller banks, in an analysis made by the Illinois Bankers' association, were shown to be only $1,283 on the average, equal to 3.25 per cent. The dividends were lowered $1,203, and consequently 574 institutions in the smallest class had only $80 each, on the average, to place in their undivided profit accounts.

Make Better Showings.

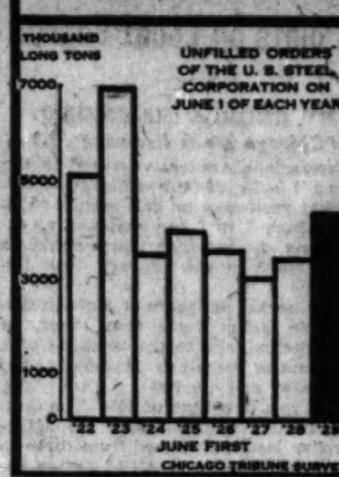

Larger banks made better showings, the net earnings moving up almost in a straight progression to the banks of largest size—those having more than ten million dollars at work. The latter class showed net of $11,88 per cent. The three classes had 18.8 per cent.

Total losses for the same three groups, including those on loans and investments and depreciation, exceeded the amount that was paid in dividends. The bigger banks managed to hold such losses down to a far smaller figure proportionately.

The small banks are actively trying to find means to improve their position. They hope to halt the onward march of the bank holding systems both as a matter of protection for themselves and, they add, for the benefit of their communities. The new banking act passed by the general assembly provides that no bank may be started with less than $50,000 capital, as against the present $25,000, which is stronger units for the independent.

A series of consolidations among small banks, making them into strong institutions, as the city banks have strengthened themselves, might be a good measure.

Steel Orders at the Opening of June Were Highest for the Month Since 1923

French Fear for Economic Peace of World

Regard U. S. Tariffs with Misgivings.

(Copyright: 1929. By the New York Times.)
PARIS, June 13.—The greatest misgiving, not only for their own export industry but for the commercial peace of the world, that French writers on economic and political matters are now writing about the United States' tariff increases.

Following the protest of the French chamber of commerce that there had been a loss of 100,000,000 francs of trade of the new tariff bill. Thus, in the publication Actualités, which is directed by former Ambassador Henri Berenger, François Marsal, former premier and finance minister, and Stephane Lauzanne, there were published today articles which take a decidedly pessimistic view of the effect of the extension of protectionism on the peace of the world.

Await Hoover Decision.

The decision of President Hoover, Marsal writes, is awaited with the greatest interest.

"How can we reconcile this commercial policy, which tends to close American frontiers to European products, with the American financial policy which receives abundant transfusion of foreign money for the settlement of interrelated debts?"

After describing the situation created by the new bill he adds: "These discontent as hog growers have voiced has been due to price control by the country buying device, which is the only weak spot in the live stock production of the country." The same author continues: "The stock industry has recently experienced a speculative furor, but in common with cattle is healthy in a fundamental sense. But three years have elapsed since the cattle industry was in the throes of depression incidental to post-war liquidation. Meanwhile values have appreciated to an extent not generally sensed."

Direct Buying.

The appreciation in cattle is emanating from statements of the condition of the United States treasury. June 12, income to date this year, $3,341,888,972, income to date last year, $3,427,002,330.

Decrease.

Decrease in cattle prices, $85,113,965. Decrease over entire last year, $9,127,837. Balance general fund today, $87,176,876. Balance previous day, $86,008,876. Increase, $1,170,000. Less dependable grades, $1,170,000. Less than 100%.

Says Livestock Producers Are Deaf to Farm Relief

Live stock farmers are now in an inimical female cattle were lower in a relative sense.

Even hogs, handicapped by a price control system resulting from direct country buying for which purpose that system was designed, are paying well at present, he finds, and a brand of growing ewes whether on the farm or in the market, are in demand, hands, is yielding big dividends.

Fat cattle at $12.50 to $15.25; hogs at only a few weeks back at $14.00 to 16.50, according to Mr. Brown, tell an eloquent story of the satisfactory condition of the live stock area of agriculture, a condition strikingly in contrast with that of the one-half billion crop production stories he is deaf.

Only Weak Spot.

Out of the travail of agriculture comes one placid note—the live stock farmer is enjoying a large measure of content. Growing cattle, hogs, or sheep, or any combination of the three, his markets are reasonably satisfactory and in the case of cattle and sheep emphatically so. To the clamor of government or other relief measures, the live stock area of agriculture is deaf.

Only Weak Spot.

With the exception of hogs, live stock production is on an exceedingly profitable basis," he added. "Such discontent as hog growers have voiced has been due to price control by the country buying device, which is the only weak spot in the live stock production of the country." The same author continues: "The stock industry has recently experienced a speculative furor, but in common with cattle is healthy in a fundamental sense. But three years have elapsed since the cattle industry was in the throes of depression incidental to post-war liquidation. Meanwhile values have appreciated to an extent not generally sensed."

Merger Focuses Attention.

Funds were in plentiful supply and the call rate, which had remained at 7 per cent, dropped back to 7 before the session was very old. Concessions even from the smaller figure were to be had on the outside. Money brokers said that improved credit conditions were due to the bill of June 12, which, here against the midmonth movement and tax payments, and inasmuch as the checks sent out for these purposes will not begin to come back before the middle of next week no further

WHEAT GOES UP, THEN DOWN IN ERRATIC DAY

But Closing Prices Show
Net Gains.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Defeat of the debtors' proposition by the house of representatives at Washington, with prospects that the senate might pass a conference farm bill today will lead to heavy buying and short covering, following a short bulge in wheat yesterday. As far as the buying ceased, however, prices reacted faster than they had advanced, and the close was within a fraction of the opening, although net gains were 3 1/2¢ to 4¢ with July, $1.65¢; to 1.67¢; Sept., $1.11¢; and $1.34¢; and December, $1.14¢ to $1.16¢.

Corn showed independent strength from the start, with the old crop months at a new high for the week.

July touching 94¢ on the bulge, but the market weakened toward the last with wheat, and on profit taking and closed 4 1/2¢ to 5¢ higher, the latter on December, which finished at 85¢ to 86¢ with July, 92¢ to 93¢, and September, 91¢ to 92¢.

Wheat at Wichita.

At no time during the day were commodity prices as low as the finish of wheat, with houses with eastern and foreign connections on the buying side early in the unexpected strength to Liverpool having some effect. The Miller market was 1.61¢, while

Buenos Aires after opening 4¢ lower, with July, 8¢, advanced sharply, and at midday was up 2¢ to 3¢.

Burying of wheat on the way up was largely of a local character, while commodity houses sold, and the pit element reversed their position and found support lacking when they tried to get out. The market's action during the day suggested that outside interest was limited and that the bulk of the business was of a local character, which to some extent accounted for the erratic fluctuations.

New wheat has started to move in the southwest, and the first car of new Oklahoma grain was received at Wichita, Kan., during the day. It was loaded Wednesday on the Rock Island lines at Temple, Okla. The first car of new Oklahoma wheat last year was received at Enid on June 12.

Harvesting in Kansas is not expected to get under way before June 20, owing to recent unfavorable weather for maturing the crop.

Export demand at the seaport was slow, with sales of 600,000 bu. in all positions, largely

Manitoba. Winnipeg closed 3 1/2¢ to 4¢ higher, with further complaints regarding dry weather.

More Interest in Corn.

Unfavorable weather conditions over the corn belt, with only 75 per cent of the Illinois corn planted by June 1, according to the official report, still to be completed in parts of southwest Iowa, brought in more outside trading of futures, especially in the commodity of the strongest houses in the trade put bullish summaries of the situation which attracted considerable attention and did high bids for cash grain to be had.

The bulge, however, weakened its technical position, and the reaction was rapid, with July losing 4¢ on the September for the day, although purchase of cash grain by local handlers were only 10,000 bu.

Trade in oats was small, with prices firm in systematic buying. Early commodity houses were fair, but with selling against purchases of corn by spreaders. Dry weather is regarded as needed over part of the country for the new crop. Rye advanced with wheat, but the upturn was checked by selling by spreaders who bought corn. A little export business was put through at the seaport.

GOOD TRADE IN BELLIES

Buyers of bellies are good, with statements of both land and meats larger than usual.

Lard was in fair attention and gained 2 1/2¢ to 3¢. On the bulge selling was by recent buyers. Liverpool lard was 6¢ lower on spot and 3¢ higher on October. Cumbria and bellies were lower. Hogs were in higher supply than a week ago at western packing points and prices at Chicago 10¢ to 20¢ higher, although the market closed weak. Prices follow:

THE UNKISSED BRIDE

By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS.

Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is visited by a letter from her fiance, Geoffrey Ford, a well-known novelist, asking to see him. The young man is penniless. Proposited with her own trouble she fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled, too. Towards the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will have to give up his house in Harley street.

Locke, a tenant, tells her that he has been offered a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he recommend Rex for it. The only hitch is the plan is that they want a married man and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new post, Rex turns a deaf ear.

Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The man is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is badly in need of another job, although her real reason is to have another read of her engagement to another man.

The doctor brooks over the change his altered circumstances will have on his young patient and wants to see Flirtor. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and enter into an arrangement to a strictly business basis. Immediately the ceremony. Joy and Perival Arthur go to the villa of Frenchmen, one being a keep house and Perival Arthur has the time of his life. Joy and Rex become interested in each other.

INSTALLMENT XL.

THE INEVITABLE MEETING.

Joy took two quick steps to the saloon windows behind them. Then her hand turned back to the balcony as though drawn by some invisible hand. She could not understand why it felt like that. Perhaps Rex Travers' late secretary (the young woman who had dangled her earnings and cooed at the doctor) she found "oo, my deah! one of these magnet men!" might have understood?

"Good-by" Joy tossed the last casual farewell in the direction of this new disconcerting Rex who was all friendly older-brother—until it came to his eyes.

Joy, to give herself an excuse for having looked back, to have something to do with her hands, pushed the silver cigarette box further onto the balcony table.

Rex (who had, after all, to fill his case before he went out) moved back to the table and took that box from her hand. Lifting box and hand together, he uttered a light "Thanks!" bent his head and touched his lips, fumbling, against the fingers that left the box in his.

Quite a pretty courteous gesture. Men of other nations use it every day and are sometimes surprised at some Englishwoman's involuntary recoil against having her hand kissed, while the Englishwoman is also sometimes surprised at the unflattering mechanical coldness of that salute. For the continental forgets that what from him is purely formal greeting is to the Englishmen she knows made something more personal than a caress; it is an emotional admission.

"But what Rex possibly have meant that?" wondered Joy, fluttering a caught bird. "Or did he only do like the mount and all these other abroad?" She felt that the look of a man's eyes, suddenly cut, first wet warmly velvet in texture must be left visibly impressed upon her hand even as it still seemed to glow upon her conscious cheek.

Lifting his head again, taking out a cigarette, Rex stepped back. Rex, replying to her last "good-by," said "so long!"

He all added another word to that. Practically everybody nowadays uses it in the same friendly meaningless manner, to almost everybody else of their acquaintance. But not this man; here was the one girl in the world

Question.

If traveling to the Pacific coast would you use an air rail route?

The Answers.

Irving Charles Adler, 3240 Beach

avenue, accountant—I can foresee the development of travel by air as the great feature of this century. This should persuade everybody to use the air. I think the airplane in a short time will bring a great change in world transportation.

Mrs. Helen Dahl, 235 West Marquette road, stenographer—Yes, if I had the money and wasn't too much afraid, I would have to have a short trip to Europe. It would be all right. A trip to the west coast would be quite expensive, but if one had the money and nerve, it would be a great experience.

Samuel Albert, proprietor, Calumet Bath, 5475 Woodward—An airplane trip would make better speed, and so is to be preferred over the all rail routes, to say nothing of the novelty.

In the principal exhibition John F. St. George gives us a rarely beautiful landscape in "When Apples Fall." Near the head is the stunning bird "decoration," "Chinese Egrets," by Kari Piat, a beautiful painting in composition and color, the lemon yellow of the fantastic birds in bold relief against the dark tones of the background. The artist has made a strong impression of their severity emphasize the luxuriant beauty of the egrets. Near this hangs the virile "Quarry" by G. Ames Aldrich, the charming "Road to Town" by Lucie Harthart, the fine tranquility of a landscape by Peyraud, the distinctive portrait of a lady by Oskar Gross, fine in its tones and color scheme and subtle, restrained arrangement, and the cheery and gay "Reflections" by Ruth Van Sickle Ford.

Frank V. Dudley shows a superb still life; Pauline Palmer submits an exquisite portrait of a young girl in white. Gerald A. Frank has a magnificent composition in "Iris"; Mary E. Levy, the widow of five brothers, has a picture of a woman in a May day gown, James Tissot offers a stunning sweep of cloud and sky over a thin rim of the world; R. F. Ingere shows a fine mountain painting—as does Adolph Heinze—and E. Martin Jennings gives us a glorious burnished gold page from the southwest. "Faith Steps Forth," by Ingeborg Christensen, is a picture of a young girl, a young girl armed with two dolls, and "Cederburg Sunday Morning" by Francis Chaplin strikes the loud pedal of modernism with a quick staccato of color and movement that is amazing.

Miss Hazel Bailey, 27 West 108th place, comptometer operator—For me, I work for a railroad and a railroad pass. Something depends upon how much money one has, and I haven't much money. Another thing, some people say it's kind rocks going in an airplane. Pullman coaches are packed, tracks are smooth.

Charles R. Rau, manager, Minnesota Produce company, 5227 West Madison street—On my trip to Denver I couldn't kick about the service on trains. Train transportation is being improved all the time, but the better, road beds are being straightened and improved, the equipment is continually providing greater comfort to the traveler, and the train is the safest method of travel.

The two professors, whose dismissions were revealed almost simultaneously, today are the Rev. R. Mandrotti and Dr. J. W. A. Kinross, professor of religious education and head of the Bible department of McKendree college of Lebanon, Ill.

Dr. Mandrotti is a self-styled fundamentalist and in a public statement he attributed his ouster to his "conservative" theological viewpoint, as opposed to "modernistic" tendencies by Dr. H. R. Niebuh and other faculty members. He demanded a hearing before the board of directors. Dr. Samuel Press, president of the seminary, said the hearing would be given Monday, but declared the dismission due to "academic reasons."

Dr. Kinross's dismission is ascribed by his friends to his "modernism" as McKendree college is known for its conservative theological conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and many of its students are sons and daughters of Methodist ministers. President Cameron Harmon said the criticism of Dr. Kinross was directed not to the content of his teaching but to this manner as a method of teaching, consisting in a too abrupt challenging of traditional beliefs students bring with them from their homes.

"Then, catching her arm, he dragged her back for another look at some fascinating exotic crabs that siddled over a rock at the bottom of their tank. And it was then that the inevitable meeting occurred.

Antoinette Tells How to Have Long Curly Eyelashes

It will not be long before every little girl will be taught to care for her eyelashes and eyebrows just as she is taught now to care for her teeth. She will have her small eyebrow brush and perhaps be recommended to have two, for alternates use. For the moment little and high school girls show an increasing interest in the development of beautiful eyebrows and lashes, particularly the latter.

Perhaps the screen influence is the basis for this constantly growing prayer for just one more beauty feature and "Lord, please make it long, not lashes, if you don't mind my asking." The screen certainly shows that tantalizing lure may be had a deep fringed lid.

A point we must not forget about eyelashes and eyebrows is that the same high grade of health that makes one beautiful also makes them tone, quantity and quality. There are tiny hair roots at the base of the eyelashes and there is an oil supply attached to the hair root that depends upon a healthy blood stream for nourishment. During illness or after, eyelashes are just as likely to fall out as hair on the head.

Hygiene will play havoc with the lashes. Grammarians also may affect them. When you realize that floppy lids are due to lack of physical tone, you will understand that the lashes attached to them can be neither healthy nor beautiful.

Persons who treat their eyelashes daily with little oil, and they apply tonic on them, will see more luxuriant growth because of the mechanical stimulation of the roots. The curling lash may be cultivated by the simple method of brushing upward with the small brush, daily. There are small implements called pincers, that professionals use to get this upcurled lash effect.

The cosmetic which gives the illusion of length to eyelashes is to darken the ends. Even naturally dark lashes are lighter in color at their tips. A gentle massaging of the eyelids with the finger tips, including the eyelash edges in the movement, is recommended.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"O, daddy, can't I come, too?" Allen pleaded when his daddy was going away with another man.

"No, son, daddy answered, kindly but firmly, "not this time."

After he had gone Allen sat by the window and sobbed. "When I'm so good to him, he won't even take me along."

Tommy wanted some custard pie. Thinking the crust would be too heavy for him to digest, mother scooped the custard off on a plate and set it before him. "O, no!" yelled Tommy. "I want some of what it sits on, too."

Dignity Wounded, So the French Teachers Won't Mark 'Exams'

[Copyright: 1929 by The New York Times.] PARIS, June 13.—Following the 24 hour strike of Paris postmen, the school teachers of France have decided upon a qualified strike to begin June 20. The complaint is not so much a matter of salary or hours of labor, but the fact that in the new classification of "functional" public service, the teachers are denied the modelling of adolescent mentality. They are placed lower down on the list of precedence than office boys in the ministry of war. Their "amour propre" (self-esteem) is decidedly wounded.

The strike will not mean the closing of the schools, but simply that the pedagogues will not appear to the examination papers. The executive council of the school teachers' union urges that there be no rioting or disorderliness, "nor any breach of conduct to reflect upon the dignity of the profession."

The action has provoked considerable and acid comment in the papers, "generous salaries" and "long vacations," pointing out that the example of their mentors is sure to lead to disrespect for the law of the land among the nation's youth.

There probably will be a special meeting of officials of the ministry of education to consider punitive action as in the recent case of the striking postmen.

New Onwentsia Pool Inspires Plan for Party

BY THALIA

The stunning new swimming pool at Onwentsia has inspired the idea of a Lido party, to be given in early July. The announcements have not yet gone out to members, and the date has not yet been set, but the party is pretty much of a certainty anyway.

It was at the opening party, the Marine Army and Navy ball, that some bright souls thought what fun it would be to reproduce in part the colorful Italian spa. The women will, of course, trot out bizarre beach gowns, and those who have acquired a good case of sun tan will be in their element.

Another proposed feature of the affair is that is intriguing its evolvers as well as those who have heard about it. It is a beauty contest, to be conducted by the men. Many details for such a competition have been suggested, but the exact conduct of it has not yet been decided. Referring back to the Army and Navy ball, it was heard the other day that many of the women attended as Joan Lowell, whose "The Castle of the Deep" has caused such controversial talk.

Onwentsia's Thursday afternoon mixed tennis games have begun, and the 4 o'clock trains on Thursday afternoons carry a goodly representation of the men going out for the game. The players are not formally for supper. Onwentsia's golf course is going through a renovation process and will be a highly excellent one when it is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dean Faxon of Highland Park have announced the engagement of their daughter, Josephine Hood, Richardson Revell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Revell of the Drake hotel. Miss Faxon is a graduate of Miss Mander's school and Dobbs Ferry. Mr. Revell attended Hill school and Yale university. The wedding is planned for some time in October.

Numerous responses to the handsome invitations sent out by the Indiana Society of Chicago for the dinner to be given there in honor of John T. McCutcheon and Miss McComb. It is indicated that the affair will be both brilliant and fashionable. The committee in charge states that the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer house has been elaborately decorated for the occasion. Mr. McCutcheon is to report "oratorically and pictorially" his recent explorations of South America.

Col. and Mrs. George T. Buckingham will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Codd, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Hurley, and Mr. and Mrs. Lucy Wilson Buckingham. Col. Buckingham, who is president of the society, will preside.

Others who have made reservations include Mr. and Mrs. William B. Avery, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw, Mrs. Charles G. King, Mrs. William H. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Judson, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Studebaker, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher M. Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bendix, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Houghtaling, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs.

Musical Screen to Carry "Follies" to Small U. S. Cities

New York, June 12.—(AP)—Florenz Ziegfeld, theatrical producer, and Samuel Goldwyn, film producer, today announced the formation of the Ziegfeld-Goldwyn corporation for the production of musical shows for the audience screen.

"This does not mean that I have turned my back on musical productions for the theater," Mr. Ziegfeld said today. "My musical shows will go on as before. I have been interested in taking pictures for some time and believe it is now possible for the screen to produce adequately the effect in color and sound that we have previously been able to produce only on the stage. Sound pictures will enable us to bring to small towns, productions hitherto limited to the screen."

All talking, color, singing and dancing films will be produced by the new company which will release its first picture through United Artists corporation of which Mr. Goldwyn is an owner-member.

Work will be begun in Hollywood early in January on the first picture which it is expected will be ready for release sometime in May.

PATTERNS BY CLOITIDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.
Silk crepe in a modernistic print will make up smartly in this design. The long waisted bodice is cut with the fashionably pointed outline at the front, affecting a hip yoke and in that way giving length to the figure. The back is plain, while the circular front reveals the waist. Every motion of the wearer. A flattening seam at the end of the Vionnet neckline finishes the neck perfectly. It is a model that adapts itself beautifully to any of the silk crepes.

The pattern, 2638, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 40 inch material with 1 yard of 36 inch contrasting and 1 1/2 yards of binding.

A Good Sport.

I had received a coupon for a box seat at the circus, but when I arrived I found it already occupied. So told the occupant he would have to move. He began to argue and finally asked who would make him move. I told him who would make him move. The boy too grew up to carry on his Scout activities any longer may have this bit of equipment to pass on to another still young enough to enjoy the games and outdoor amusement a jackknife provides. Your small contribution may help him forget his ill health.

The next day my druggist designated me to call on and obtain a promising order of a prospective buyer. I was determined to "bring home the bacon," so after some little waiting I was at last ushered into the office of the "big man." Imagine my feelings when I discovered him to be none other than the man I had so abused at the circus. I said of course I did not expect he would give me his order, but he did. "I would have you know, because of this and gave me the order, making me feel pretty small. He was a fine man and a good sport.

Thin, Weak Folks! Gain Weight Quick

Amazingly Easy Way
NEW Medicated Food, IRONIZED YEAST, Adds 5 to 15 Lbs., In Few Short Weeks!

Results Guaranteed—or Pay Nothing

DAILY the letters pour in telling how IRONIZED YEAST has quickly made REAL MEN out of "skinny" weaklings. They gained 5 to 15 pounds in short weeks. Their muscles rounded out. They gained new strength and energy; a manly color and a clear, robust skin.

Sunken cheeks, which always age one, filled out so that many write: "Now look 10 years younger." Results are guaranteed by your own druggist—or pay nothing.

How and Why IRONIZED YEAST Adds Weight and Vigor So Quickly

IRONIZED YEAST is two great tonics in one. Weight-building YEAST and strengthening blood-enriching IRON. The Yeast is the kind used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial.

We concentrate it so that 12 sacks of raw, live yeast make only 1/2 sack of that concentrate which goes into IRONIZED YEAST. That's what's remarkable weight-building power is given IRONIZED YEAST by the 24-to-1 concentration!

This Yeast is treated with two kinds of Iron used for years by the highest medical authorities. Iron enriches the blood; tones up nerves and muscles.

The Yeast is further treated with Violet Rays, the latest scientific discovery, which increases its energizing and weight-building qualities.

Only when Yeast is thus Ironized is it most effective. Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast.

By this special formula, IRONIZED YEAST gives you results in half the time required by Yeast or Iron taken separately.
